

Service to the Direct-Service Industries Public Meeting
Sept. 8, 2006
BPA Headquarters, Rates Hearing Room
10 a.m. – 4 p.m.

Consider these questions when submitting comments to BPA:

1. How should BPA use the DSI Economic Study when determining the level of service to the DSIs?
2. What is a reasonable level of cost BPA's other customers should be willing to incur for service to the DSIs?
3. What are key factors BPA needs to consider when determining the type and level of service to the DSIs? Factors could include, but are not limited to: regional economic conditions, consumer rates, jobs, increased augmentation requirements for BPA and who bears the risk of changing market conditions.
4. What would strike the "proper balance" for service to the DSIs post-2011 and why?
5. Are there modifications to an alternative that would make it more widely acceptable?
6. What alternatives are totally unacceptable and why?
