Would life in your community be better if:

- You had access to new hospitals and senior centers or enhanced health care services for ill or aging family members?
- Your children could learn in new or improved schools or child-care centers?
- Your commute to work was safer and less congested thanks to better roads or expanded public transportation options?
- Your local emergency services providers had up-to-date maps to ensure faster response in a crisis?
- Your local areas could better deliver goods and services to your community?

The 2010 Census will be a snapshot of our nation's population - capturing our changing and diverse America. But this historic event will do more than tell us who we are as a nation today.

It will affect:

Your community's future. Your country's future. Your future.

The federal government distributes more than $400 billion annually to state, local and tribal governments based on census data. As one of the shortest census forms in history, the 2010 Census form asks 10 questions and takes about 10 minutes to complete. Completing your census form is easy, important and safe. Your participation is vital.

By participating in the census, you can help create a better future for you and those important to you.

We move forward when you send it back.

Make a difference in your community and be counted in 2010. Complete and return your 2010 Census form.

IT'S IN OUR HANDS

To learn more, visit: 2010census.gov

"By participating in the 2010 Census we will be providing a footprint to future generations that will help them understand the world that we live in today."

- Ancestry.com

The 2010 Census: How People Are Counted

5 Key Steps To counting every Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander in our nation

How will the 2010 Census actually happen? Many operations, people and activities must come together to produce a successful census. Here are six steps every U.S. resident should know.

K

Step 1: Census is underway. Census workers canvassed the country between April and July 2009 to update addresses and maps from the previous census. This process is important because buildings that existed in the last census may no longer be standing, or a community may have new construction that needs to be recorded.

Step 2: The form arrives. More than 130 million addresses throughout Step 3: Census Day is April 1, 2010. Responses to the census form should include everyone living at your address. By law, the Census Bureau cannot share an individual's personal information with anyone, including other federal agencies and law enforcement entities.

Step 4: Follow-up because every person matters. Addresses that still Step 5: The results are in! The Census Bureau will provide the 2010 apportionment counts to the President by Dec. 31, 2010, which include the total population counts and the number of representatives for each state.

You should be counted

Most people should be counted in the residence where they live or sleep most of the time. However, some individuals or groups have unique living situations. The Census Bureau residence rule helps make it clear where people should be counted. Common situations include:

Typical Living Situations

here

Living Situation	Where they are counted
Live at their home and nowhere else	Their home
On vacation or a business trip	Their home where they live and sleep most of the time
Live no one place regularly OR	The residence in which they are experiencing homelessness	are staying on Census Day

People in places where groups of people live

Living Situation Places where groups of people live such as jails or prisons, group homes, domestic violence shelters, and emergency or transitional shelters for people

Where they are counted

Group location

experiencing homelessness

U.S. military personnel

Living Situation	Where they are counted
In barracks in the United States	The barracks
On base or off base in the United States, but not in the barracks	The residence where they live and sleep most of the time
In the military and living overseas	Counted using the military's records for home address

Students

Living Situation	Where they are counted
Live at their parents' while attending college in the United States	Parental home
Live away from the parental home while attending college in the United States	On-campus or off-campus housing
Attend college outside the United States	Not counted in the census
Live away from the parental home while attending boarding school in the United States	Parental home
Foreign citizens in the United States

Living Situation	Where they are counted
Citizens of foreign countries living in the United States	The residence where they live and sleep most of the time
Foreign citizens visiting the	Not counted in the census

People on the move

United States on a vacation or

Living Situation

business trip

Staying at more than one place (like a vacation home) or at a transitory location such as recreational vehicle (RV) parks, campgrounds, marinas, racetracks, circuses or carnivals

Where they are counted

In the residence in which they live and sleep most of the time

In the residence in which they are staying on Census Day, if time is divided equally