Carol,

This morning you asked me to write a memo following up on the issues raised at your meeting with representatives from Georgia - Pacific. I have attached an "official" memo that you can show them, but in addition I thought that you should know that the new Pacific Northwest Forest Management Plan will probably not call for any seizure of private lands for owl-conservation purposes. However, there is no reason to let Georgia - Pacific know this right now -- they will just be that much happier with the Forest Management Plan when it eventually comes out! If I can give you any more information on this issue, or if the attached memo doesn't do the trick, give me a call and I can rewrite it to better suit your needs.

Mike

MEMORANDUM FOR CAROL H. RASCO, ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT
FOR DOMESTIC POLICY

FROM: Mike Schmidt

SUBJECT: Response to Georgia - Pacific Concerns

I got your message about the meeting you had this morning with representatives from Georgia - Pacific Corporation. I followed up on the issues that were brought up at the meeting -- specifically the issues of continued private harvesting on public lands and federal compensation for the seizure of private forest lands -- and can report the following:

- The new Pacific Northwest Forest Management Plan will eventually lead to identifiable long-term levels of timber harvesting on public lands in the Northwest. These levels are intended to establish greater certainty and stability in federal forest policy, which in turn will allow companies like Georgia - Pacific to make more accurate long-term business decisions.
- The scientific team that is developing the new Forest Management Plan is currently considering the issue of federal compensation for private forest land seized for owl-conservation purposes. No decision has yet been reached on the issue of federal compensation, nor on the issue of seizure of private lands, and all points of view (industry, environmental, etc.) are being considered.
- I relayed Georgia - Pacific's concerns to Tom Tuchmann with the Department of Interior. Tom is the official liaison between the business, labor, and environmental communities and the scientific team that is developing the Forest Management Plan. He assured me that he would discuss these concerns with the scientific team.

If you have any questions about any of this or need more information, please give me a call.

Ms. Carol H. Rasco
Assistant to the President
for Domestic Policy
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Carol:

This letter is a request for an appointment with you at anytime between May 3 and May 21. We at Georgia-Pacific are both interested and concerned about the plans to be presented to the President for resolving the timber problems in the Pacific Northwest. Although most of our operations are in Arkansas and the South, we still have substantial facilities and over 4,700 employees in the three affected states.

I realize you are not directly involved in the plan development, but G-P is interested in being supportive of the President when he announces his plan. Your insight and counsel to us on this matter would be deeply appreciated. We do intend to arrange meetings with Katie McGinty on the details of our West Coast operations.

Hope you and the kids are settled into the Washington scene. I know you must be spending countless hours in your new responsibilities and have limited time to meet with everyone. If you can spare me a few minutes I will be most grateful.

My best regards,

Sincerely,

John M. Turner
