EPA's Office of Enforcement and Compliance Assurance's web-based Tribal Compliance Assistance Center is now available. The Tribal Center is designed for tribes, tribal environmental professionals and owners and operators of facilities in Indian country.

The Tribal Center:

- Provides access to federal environmental requirements and other material to improve environmental compliance and management in Indian country;
- Offers comprehensive compliance assistance and pollution prevention information for regulated activities in Indian country for 12 topic areas:

|   |                         |                      |
|---|-------------------------|----------------------|
| Waste Management                        | Drinking Water          | Buildings & Vehicles |
| Pesticides & Toxics                     | Water Resources         | Wastewater           |
| Air Resources                           | Healthcare              | Tribal Enterprises   |
| Pollution Prevention & Green Purchasing | Roles in Indian Country | Public Safety        |

- Links to compliance and enforcement information on approximately 800,000 EPA-regulated facilities;
- Enables you to report an environmental violation; and
- Helps you find training opportunities and specific personnel at EPA who can answer environmental compliance questions.

If Internet access is limited, EPA's Profile of Tribal Government Operations is available in hardcopy and provides much of the Tribal Center's information.

Compliance Assistance Centers are also available for 14 other areas of interest to Indian country, including auto recyclers, agriculture, auto repair, border compliance, construction, chemical, federal facilities, and healthcare. A new education center will come on line in late 2007. Find all the Centers at <http://www.assistancecenters.net>.
