

RECREATION CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

with the Armed Forces

Morale, Welfare, and Recreation (MWR)
Programs in the

Army • Navy • Air Force
Marines • Coast Guard

Taking care of those who protect & defend

COAST GUARD

The mission of the Coast Guard MWR Program is to uplift the spirits of the Coast Guard Family and be an essential element of Coast Guard readiness and retention through MWR programs and services.

Visit www.uscg.mil/mwr for information on civilian APF positions available and telephone numbers for Community Services staff regarding civilian NAF positions available.

Coast Guard Student Internship Program

Interns gain operational and programming experience in facilities such as gyms, pools, tennis & racquetball courts, weight rooms, athletic fields, tour & ticket offices, campgrounds, temporary lodgings, movie theaters, bowling centers, and food & beverage operations. Housing, pay, meals, and travel expenses may be included, depending on position and location. Intern positions are open for 12 to 16 weeks (depending on school requirements), on a year-round basis. The best time for internship is May–September when more events occur. Application deadline is March 1 for summer internships, and at least 45 days in advance for other semesters.

For more information visit www.uscg.mil/mwr

MARINE CORPS

Marine Corps Community Services—MWR

We are searching for highly-motivated people to help us serve Marines and their families, and ensure their personal and family readiness throughout their mission, career, and life events.

The Marine Corps Community Services (MCCS) provides civilian employment opportunities at all of our installations. Filling of vacancies is managed at the installation (location) level, but our web site covers vacancy announcements for all locations: <http://www.usmc-mccs.org/employ/>

Marine Corps Community Services offers an exciting array of employment opportunities, ranging from recreation and youth program leaders, to child development directors, event planners, materials handlers, and food & beverage professionals.

To see the civilian vacancies available at each Marine Corps Command location, visit <http://www.usmc-mccs.org/employ/> and click on Job Vacancies.

Morale, Welfare, and Recreation (MWR) career opportunities abound for each military Service.

SELECT A BRANCH OF THE SERVICE TO WORK FOR

ARMY

Civilian job opportunities include recreation director; managers for outdoor recreation, arts & crafts, leisure travel, aquatics and recreation centers; sports/fitness director; and librarian. For position descriptions and application information, visit

<http://www.armymwr.org/hr/employment.aspx>

Army NAF Management Trainee Program

Imagine yourself promoting exciting concerts, leading kayaking adventure trips, opening a theme restaurant, or renovating a multi-million dollar hotel! Through our 36-month training program, you will get on-the-job training (OJT) opportunities like these.

Management Trainees undergo 24 months of OJT at an Army installation supervised by a trainer-mentor, after which trainees are placed in a NF-04 managerial job for their specialty. With another 12 months of OJT in that specialty program area, trainees complete any unfinished requirements and transition into their new career!

The MWR is vital to readiness and mission accomplishment. MWR provides programs, services, and activities both in peacetime and during readiness contingencies and deployments. MWR addresses the physical, cultural, and social needs and general well-being of Service members and their families, providing community support systems that make Department of Defense (DoD) installations temporary hometowns for a mobile military population. MWR programs include clubs, libraries, recreation centers, marinas, organized sports, bowling, golf,

NAVY

The Navy MWR Division administers recreation, social, and community support activities on U.S. Navy facilities worldwide. Our mission is to provide quality support and recreational services that contribute to the retention, readiness, and mental, physical, and emotional well-being of our Sailors. For more information visit

<http://www.mwr.navy.mil/mwrprgms/personnel.html>

Student Internship Program

The Fleet and Family Readiness (FFR) Internship provides college seniors and graduate students with opportunities to apply their academic knowledge and skills in a real-world work environment within a Navy community. The 12-week internship places students with a qualified mentor who guides and supports them as they learn first-hand what it takes to deliver quality programs and services to Sailors and their families. Interns earn college credit and valuable experience, while helping to enhance the quality of life of the Navy community.

Currently FFR offers civilian placements in social work, library science, business and hospitality, sports, fitness, aquatics, community recreation, youth recreation, outdoor recreation, child development, special events, tourism, marketing, and food & beverage management/culinary experiences. Students interested in an FFR Internship must be enrolled in a degree program related to an FFR program.

For additional information about the FFR Internship Program visit www.mwr.navy.mil physical fitness, aquatics, outdoor recreation, equipment rental, leisure travel, and other related activities.

Every branch of the US Military has its own MWR program. MWR positions may be funded with either appropriated funds (APF) or nonappropriated funds (NAF), with different application methods for each.

In addition to career opportunities, MWR-related student internships are available through certain military branches.

AIR FORCE

Even the most hectic military units have a little downtime now and then. Local Morale, Welfare, and Recreation offices are there to provide recreational outlets. To review Air Force MWR career opportunities visit <http://www.usajobs.gov>

Individuals seeking civilian NAF career opportunities with the Air Force should inquire with the local Human Resource office in the region of interest.

Air Force Management Trainee Program

The NAF Management Trainee (MT) Program develops individuals who can deal effectively and ethically with change, complexity, and problem solving. These entry-level positions support the Air Force community. U.S. citizenship is required. Positions are located at Air Force bases throughout the United States with outplacement available worldwide. For more information visit <http://afnafcareers.com/html/frameset.asp>

Air Force Student Internship Program

The PALACE Acquire Intern Program provides civilian employment opportunities in over 20 career fields. Interns participate in a 2- to 4-year OJT program with performance-based annual promotions while in training. U.S. citizenship and mobility are required. Positions are located at Air Force bases throughout the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii, with outplacement available worldwide. For more information, call 1-800-525-0102.