~~[PROPOSED]~~

Ex Parte Statutory Restraining Order
Pursuant to 7 U.S.C. §13a-1 Prohibiting the Destruction or Altering of any Books, Records, or other Documents and an Order to Show Cause why a Preliminary Injunction Should Not be Entered

WHEREAS Plaintiff Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “Commission”), has filed a complaint for a permanent injunction and other relief, and moved ex parte, pursuant to Section 6c of the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended (“Act”), 7 U.S.C. §13a-1 (2001), for a statutory restraining order prohibiting the destruction of books, records, or other documents, requiring Defendants American Energy Exchange (“AMENX”) and York Commodities (“York”) to permit access to and produce those books, records, and documents to Plaintiff and ordering Defendants to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued, and

WHEREAS the Court has considered the pleadings, declarations, exhibits, and memorandum filed in support of the Commission’s application and now, being advised in the premises, finds that:

- (1) This Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of this case, and Section 6c of the Act, 7 U.S.C. §13a-1, authorizes ex parte relief;
- (2) There is good cause to believe that

(a) AMENX has engaged in, is engaging in, or is about to engage in the offering of entering into futures and options transaction that are not executed on a board of trade designated by or registered with the Commission as a either a contract market or derivatives transaction execution facility in violation of Section 4(a) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. § 6(a); and

(b) Defendants have engaged in, are engaging in, or are about to engage in the offering to enter into options transactions in violation of Section 4c(b) of the Act, 7 U.S.C. §6c(b), and Commission Regulation 32.9(a) and (c), 17 C.F.R. § 32.9(a) and (c);

(3) Absent the entry of this statutory restraining order, Defendants are likely to destroy business records. As such, good cause exists for entry of an Order prohibiting Defendants from destroying records and denying agents of the Commission access to inspect and copy records;

(4) Weighing the equities and considering the Commission's likelihood of success in its claims for relief, the issuance of a statutory restraining order is in the public interest; and

(5) This is a proper case for granting a statutory restraining order ex parte to preserve the status quo, protect public customers from loss and damage, and enable the Commission to fulfill its statutory duties; therefore IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT
