

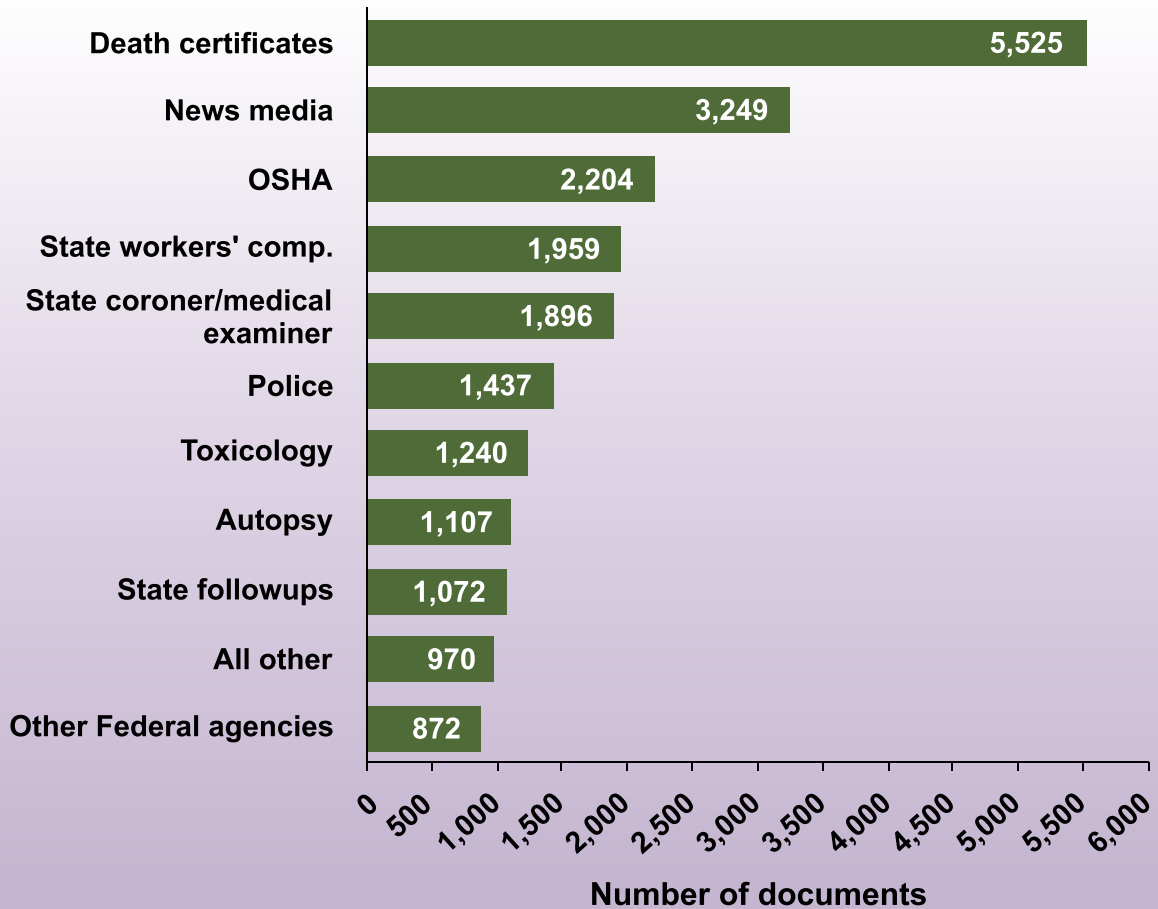

chart 24

The Census of Fatal Occupational Injuries uses a variety of sources to document and verify cases of work-related fatal injury. In 2005, more than 20,000 source documents helped identify and verify information on 5,734 fatal work injuries.

At least 25 different types of source documents may be used by States for worker fatality information.

Sources of data on fatal work injuries, 2005

SOURCE: U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, U.S. Department of Labor, 2007