Comments=Please be advised of my support for a clear separation of beer and spirits.

With all of the blurring of line in today's society, the government has to set a clear line in the definition of what is a beer and what is a spirit. One beer is definitely different than one mixed drink in its' effect on the body. When we allow spirits to take over a malt beverage, young and old alike will have trouble with whant they are actually drinking. Thank you!
