TTB Notice No.4

Dear Sir/Madam:

As a young adult consumer of flavored malt beverages, I support the adoption of your proposed rule concerning the establishment of standards for the manufacture and composition of those products.

I believe that there is a fundamental question of truth in advertising here. To the consuming public, these products are known as flavored malt beverages, therefore it's only fair that they should be required to be made from the fermentation process as other malt beverages.

Please adopt your proposed rule.

Thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Sarah Estes
