RE: TTB Notice No. 4

To Whom It May Concern:

I can't see a need for further regulation of flavored malt beverages, and I am seriously troubled by the government's pushing for new regulations. The new regulations are so extreme that they have the potential to wipe out an entire market for small retailers. I can't see how this could possibly be good for anybody, especially given the state of economy these days.

Please do not allow small businesses and consumers to be harmed by this economy-killing proposal. Please reject the proposal for the bad policy it represents.

Thank you in advance for your support.

Sincerely.

Garlen Horsley
