Dear Sir/Madam:

RE: TTB Notice Number Four

Small businesses like Mom and Pop shops are in trouble if the TTB is permitted to enforce the new regulations on flavored malt drinks. These regulations could make retailers go out of business. I don't want to become one of those retailers who lose their company.

For 30 years the current regulations have proven to work just fine. Changing those regulations now will only confuse customers and retailers, and could eventually bankrupt businesses.

We need you to object to the proposed regulations. The TTB should not be allowed to attack businesses. Please vote against the unfair changes and make sure that businesses across the nation are safe. Thank you for your time.

Regards,

Tommy Moliason
