Sir:

I am concerned about the appeal "alcopops" to underage drinkers. I support your proposed change that will not allow them to be advertised as beer and other malt drinks if more than 0.05 of the alcohol is derived from distilling or spirits. Since the government has been regulating more accurate labeling of many products for some time I think it is appropriate that the same hold true for alcopops. This country has a serious alcohol problem among underage drinkers who are the future of this country. Let's not let them have more appealing and easier access to more alcoholic products! Thank you.
