Parent Communication – Thoughts for Parents of Applicants

Once your son or daughter decides West Point is their “college” of choice, consider joining the West Point Parent Club in your area! The West Point Parent Clubs exist to provide support to cadets, families and the United States Military Academy. The main focus of the clubs is facilitating communication between the Academy and cadet parents, promoting the image of West Point, assisting the Academy in recruitment efforts and providing fellowship to parents of cadets.

Our philosophy on parent communication is simply that parents should have the correct information in order to support their sons and daughters while attending West Point. Please keep in mind that it is a college experience and they will need to navigate much of it on their own. And, we encourage open communication between parents and cadets! That said, it is the role of the Parent Communication Liaison to help answer questions or redirect parents if/when the need arises.
