

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

Talking to your teen about the basics of home safety could some day save a life. Talk about smoke alarms, fire extinguishers, where they are located, and how they work. Emergency numbers are important to have at hand. Teach that burning candles, frayed or damaged wires, and grease fires are serious dangers in the home and that there are proper, safe ways of handling each situation. Try to make it a hands-on learning experience and your teen may be more interested in what you have to say.

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

Talking to your teen about the basics of home safety could some day save a life. Talk about smoke alarms, fire extinguishers, where they are located, and how they work. Emergency numbers are important to have at hand. Teach that burning candles, frayed or damaged wires, and grease fires are serious dangers in the home and that there are proper, safe ways of handling each situation. Try to make it a hands-on learning experience and your teen may be more interested in what you have to say.

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

Talking to your teen about the basics of home safety could some day save a life. Talk about smoke alarms, fire extinguishers, where they are located, and how they work. Emergency numbers are important to have at hand. Teach that burning candles, frayed or damaged wires, and grease fires are serious dangers in the home and that there are proper, safe ways of handling each situation. Try to make it a hands-on learning experience and your teen may be more interested in what you have to say.

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

Talking to your teen about the basics of home safety could some day save a life. Talk about smoke alarms, fire extinguishers, where they are located, and how they work. Emergency numbers are important to have at hand. Teach that burning candles, frayed or damaged wires, and grease fires are serious dangers in the home and that there are proper, safe ways of handling each situation. Try to make it a hands-on learning experience and your teen may be more interested in what you have to say.