

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

Parents need to talk to their teens about financial responsibility. Talk about monthly budgets and how to apply them. Have teens open bank accounts and learn how to properly track debits and credits. Also, teens can be taught about CD's and other investment opportunities. Discuss credit cards, other types of loans, and credit reports. Parents can make this a hands-on experience by sharing information about your own financial situation. Help your teen get the feel for managing money properly by getting an early start.

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

Parents need to talk to their teens about financial responsibility. Talk about monthly budgets and how to apply them. Have teens open bank accounts and learn how to properly track debits and credits. Also, teens can be taught about CD's and other investment opportunities. Discuss credit cards, other types of loans, and credit reports. Parents can make this a hands-on experience by sharing information about your own financial situation. Help your teen get the feel for managing money properly by getting an early start.

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

Parents need to talk to their teens about financial responsibility. Talk about monthly budgets and how to apply them. Have teens open bank accounts and learn how to properly track debits and credits. Also, teens can be taught about CD's and other investment opportunities. Discuss credit cards, other types of loans, and credit reports. Parents can make this a hands-on experience by sharing information about your own financial situation. Help your teen get the feel for managing money properly by getting an early start.

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

Parents need to talk to their teens about financial responsibility. Talk about monthly budgets and how to apply them. Have teens open bank accounts and learn how to properly track debits and credits. Also, teens can be taught about CD's and other investment opportunities. Discuss credit cards, other types of loans, and credit reports. Parents can make this a hands-on experience by sharing information about your own financial situation. Help your teen get the feel for managing money properly by getting an early start.