Annual Heidelberg technology exchange to showcase latest in information technology

HEIDELBERG, Germany -- A exposition spotlighting the latest in information technology products available through the Army's Computer Hardware, Enterprise Software and Solutions program is scheduled for May 19-20 at the Village Pavilion here.

The event, the IT Contracting and Technology Exchange, will feature the latest policy guidance on CHES's designation as the Army's primary source for commercial information technology contracts, as well as presentations, workshops and exhibitions showcasing IT products and services available through CHES contract vehicles.

The fifth annual exchange is open to Soldiers and Army federal employees and support contractors. Eligible members of the defense acquisition workforce can earn required continuous learning points by attending the event.

The full conference agenda is available online to users on the .mil domain at <https://ascp.monmouth.army.mil/ascp/commerce/conference/conferenceAgenda.jsp>.
