Army announces decision to delay V Corps inactivation

HEIDELBERG, Germany — Department of the Army announced today the Secretary of the Army has delayed the inactivation of the V Corps and the conversion of USAREUR Headquarters for one year to further assess worldwide Army command and control requirements.

The SECARMY further directed that V Corps maintain its current military authorizations of 411 personnel and USAREUR HQ retain its current military authorizations of 377 personnel. No changes to the current transformation plan for Europe are associated with this delay.
