Overview

Community Development Financial Institutions Fund

The CDFI Program: Supporting the Organizations that Serve Low-Income Communities

The U.S. Department of the Treasury's Community Development Financial Institutions (CDFI) Fund was established in 1994 to promote economic development in the nation's disadvantaged urban and rural communities. One of the primary ways that the CDFI Fund works to achieve that goal is by investing in and building the capacity of certified Community Development Financial Institutions (CDFIs) through its CDFI Program.

What is a CDFI?

A CDFI is a specialized financial institution dedicated to serving low-income individuals and communities that lack access to financial services from mainstream financial institutions. CDFIs offer retail banking services as well as loans for small businesses and microenterprises, affordable housing projects, and social service organizations. They also provide additional services—such as business planning, credit counseling, and homebuyer education—to help their borrowers use credit effectively.

To be eligible for most of the CDFI Fund's programs, an organization must be certified by the CDFI Fund. To be certified, it must meet the following criteria:

- Be a legal entity at the time it applies for certification;
- Have a primary mission of promoting community development;
- Be a financing entity;
- Primarily serve one or more target markets;
- Provide development services in conjunction with its financing activities;
- Maintain accountability to its defined target market; and
- Be a non-government entity and not be under control of any government entity (Tribal governments excluded).

As of June 30, 2010, there were 872 certified CDFIs in the United States. This number includes community development loan funds, banks, credit unions, and venture capital funds. CDFIs are found in all fifty states plus the District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

The CDFI Program

Through the CDFI Program, the CDFI Fund makes two types of monetary awards to CDFIs:

- Financial Assistance (FA) awards - The CDFI Fund makes FA awards to CDFIs that demonstrate the financial and managerial capacity to provide affordable financial products and services to low-income communities. FA awards are made both to established CDFIs (Core) and to small and emerging CDFIs (SECA). To be eligible to receive an FA award, a CDFI must be certified by the CDFI Fund before it applies for the award.

A CDFI must also match its FA award dollar-for-dollar with non-federal funds. This requirement enables the CDFI to leverage private capital to meet the demand for affordable financial products and services in its target market. The CDFI can use equity investments, loans, deposits, or grants to meet the match requirement, and its FA award is made in the same form as its matching funds. The maximum FA award amount is $2,000,000 for established CDFIs and $500,000 for small and emerging CDFIs.

- Technical Assistance (TA) awards – The CDFI Fund makes TA awards to emerging as well as established CDFIs to help them increase their capacity to serve their target markets. Both certified and non-certified CDFIs are eligible to apply for TA awards. Non-certified organizations must be able to meet CDFI certification requirements within three years.

The maximum TA award amount is $100,000. TA awards are made in the form of grants and can be used for a variety of purposes—for example, to purchase equipment, materials, supplies, for consulting or contracting services, to pay the salaries and benefits of certain personnel, and to train staff or board members. Established CDFIs often use TA grants to build their capacity to provide new products, to serve their markets in new ways, or to enhance the efficiency of their operations. Newer CDFIs often use their TA grants to do market research, to develop underwriting policies, and to purchase computers and other essential equipment.

The CDFI Program is funded through an annual appropriation from the United States Congress, and the awards are made each year through a competitive process that spans several months. The CDFI Fund generally publishes its Notice of Funds Availability (NOFA), which explains in detail the application process for that funding round, in September.

CDFI Program Impact

Since its creation in 1994, the CDFI Fund has awarded over $874 million in FA and TA awards through the CDFI Program. In FY 2010 alone, the CDFI Fund received 408 applications for FA and TA awards, and provided nearly $105 million in awards to 179 organizations in 46 states and the District of Columbia.

Recipients of CDFI Program awards have had a tangible impact in the low-income communities they serve. For example, in 2008 alone—the most recent year that numbers are available—CDFIs that received Financial Assistance awards from the CDFI Fund financed 27,765 jobs, attributable to 4,683 businesses and provided micro loans totaling $351.6 million. FA recipients also provided 1,307 loans for homebuyers, 185 loans for multi- and single-family home construction, and 251 loans for commercial real estate construction in 2008.

The CDFI Program is creating economic opportunity in America's low-income communities and transforming the lives of the people who live there.

FY 2010 CDFI Program Financial Assistance and Technical Assistance Awards

Awardee Highlights

The CDFI Fund has completed its fiscal year 2010 funding round of the CDFI Program. The CDFI Fund received applications from 408 organizations requesting nearly $470 million in FA and TA awards. The CDFI Fund made 179 awards totaling almost $105 million to CDFIs located in 46 states and the District of Columbia.

The Notice of Funds Available for the FY 2010 round was published on September 28, 2009. Applications were due November 18, 2009.

Key Statistics of Awardees (FA and TA awards combined):

- 179 CDFIs received $104,833,762 in awards, all of which are grants. Some awardees received both FA and TA awards.
- 147 FA awards and 32 TA-only awards were made.
- 152 loan funds, 20 credit unions, 4 venture capital funds, and 3 depository institutions/holding companies were awarded.
- 86 awardees primarily serve major urban markets, 35 primarily serve minor urban areas, and 58 primarily serve rural areas.

Organizational Diversity

The CDFI industry consists of a wide variety of financial institutions, including banks, credit unions, loan funds, and venture capital funds. Each provides a different mix of products geared to reach specific customers.

- Community development banks are for-profit corporations that provide capital to rebuild economically distressed communities through targeted lending and investment.
- Community development credit unions are non-profit cooperatives owned by their members. They promote ownership of assets and savings and provide affordable credit and retail financial services to low-income people.
- Community development loan funds, usually non-profits, provide financing and development services to businesses, organizations, and individuals in low-income urban and rural areas. They can be further categorized based on the type of client(s) served: micro-enterprise, small business, housing, and community service organizations.
- Community development venture capital funds are both for-profit and non-profit organizations that provide equity and debt-with-equity features for businesses in distressed communities.

The following graph shows the breakdown of the FY 2010 FA and TA awardees by the type of institution awarded.

Financial Assistance Award Highlights

Overview

The CDFI Fund uses federal resources, through the FA Program, to invest in and build the capacity of CDFIs to serve low-income people and communities lacking adequate access to affordable financial products and services. The CDFI Fund provides these awards to CDFIs that demonstrate, through their proposed comprehensive business plans, the ability and capacity to deploy credit, capital, and financial services to their target markets or to expand into new investment areas, low-income targeted populations, or other targeted populations. Low-income communities are defined as those census tracts with poverty rates of greater than 20% and/or median family incomes that are less than or equal to 80% of the area median family income.

Key Statistics of FY 2010 Financial Assistance Awardees

- 322 CDFIs applied requesting over $460 million in Financial Assistance awards.
- 147 CDFIs received $101,967,813 in awards, all of which were grants.
- The awardees consisted of 123 loan funds, 18 credit unions, 3 depository institutions/holding companies, and 3 venture capital funds.
- Core CDFIs received 122 awards and Small and/or Emerging CDFI Applicants (SECA) received 25 awards.

- Of the awardees, 73 primarily serve major urban markets, 31 primarily serve minor urban areas, and 43 primarily serve rural areas.

Financial Assistance Applicants and Awardees

The FY 2010 FA awardees include 123 loan funds, 18 credit unions, 3 depository institutions/holding companies, and 3 venture capital funds. CDFIs use FA awards to focus on different financial sectors, typically affordable housing (housing development and homeownership) and economic development (job creation, business development, and commercial real estate development). Some CDFIs serve as national or regional intermediaries providing financial products and services to local CDFIs and other community development organizations.

Awardee Categories

The CDFI Fund made FA awards to both Core and Small and Emerging (SECA) applicants. Out of 322 applicants for Financial Assistance, 229 were Core applicants and 93 were SECA. The CDFI Fund approved 122 awards to Core applicants and 25 awards to SECA applicants.

The categories enable the CDFI Fund to support CDFIs at differing levels of capacity. SECA applicants have either been in operation for five years or less or have assets of less than $5 million (less than $250 million for community development banks and less than $10 million for credit unions and venture capital funds). All other applicants are considered Core applicants. The graph below shows the breakdown of the FY 2010 FA applicants and awardees by category type.

Technical Assistance Award Highlights

Overview

The CDFI Fund makes TA awards to emerging as well as established CDFIs to help them increase their capacity to serve their target markets. Both certified and non-certified CDFIs are eligible to apply for TA awards. Non-certified organizations must be able to meet CDFI certification requirements within three years.

The maximum TA award amount is $100,000. TA awards are made in the form of grants and can be used for a variety of purposes—for example, to purchase equipment, materials, supplies, for consulting or contracting services, to pay the salaries and benefits of certain personnel, and to train staff or board members. Established CDFIs often use TA grants to build their capacity to provide new products, to serve their markets in new ways, or to enhance the efficiency of their operations. Newer CDFIs often use their TA grants to do market research, to develop underwriting policies, and to purchase computers and other essential equipment.

Key Statistics of FY 2010 TA-Only Program Awardees

- 86 organizations applied requesting over $8.4 million in TA-only awards.
- 32 CDFIs were awarded $2,865,949 in TA awards.
- The awardees consisted of 29 loan funds, 2 credit unions, and 1 venture capital fund.
- Of the awardees, 13 primarily serve major urban markets, 4 primarily serve minor urban areas, and 15 primarily serve rural areas.
- Awards ranged in size from $46,470 to $100,000 with the average being $89,877.
