Option 2: Walk...in My Shoes, Presented by Community Catalyst

This special event is limited to 80 participants. Advance Registration required.

Walk in... My Shoes is an engaging and thought provoking activity designed to provide important insights into the challenges confronting uninsured, low-income families seeking health coverage and care. As a participant, you will assume the role of a family with a specified ethnicity, language, immigration status, set of health problems, employment situation, and insurance coverage. Then, for 60 minutes, you will 'walk in these shoes,' as you attempt to obtain the health care your family needs. As you visit any of a dozen 'stations,' including State agencies, a health plan, a community health center, private doctors' offices, a pharmacy and the ER, you'll gain insights into the barriers families face and the choices they are sometimes compelled to make. Later, you will join other participants in an in-depth, facilitated discussion that will help you relate the activity to real-life experiences and draw implications for your outreach work. Walk in... My Shoes has been tailored for the National Children's Health Insurance Summit, so that it reflects the perspectives of families whose children may be eligible for Medicaid or CHIP.

Presenters:

Deborah Katz, Community Catalyst

Nicole Tambouret, Community Catalyst

Option 3: Communications Skill-building (Each 1-hour session will be offered twice during this time-slot.)

These one-hour sessions are designed for learning and practice. Bring your organization's brochures and flyers to the Message and Materials Clinic for constructive critique. Try out and perfect your two-minute "elevator speech" so you'll be prepared the next time you're asked, "What does your organization do to help get children the health coverage and care they need?" Learn how to use a range of social media – blogs, Facebook and Twitter – to the advantage of your organization, and dig deep into the details of effective story-banking.
