

The Redesigned OCC.gov

Summary of New Features

Welcome to the new OCC.gov. The improved site is organized around you to better meet your needs. It makes finding what you need easier by organizing content by audience, topic, and type.

① OCC for you is tailored to meet the needs of specific audiences. For instance, bankers can find information tailored to their needs on the bankers' page.

② The new topics section brings together all of the content published on OCC.gov related to a given subject area.

③ Each topic page shows the latest news releases and issuances associated with that topic.

④ Many visitors to OCC.gov are here to accomplish a specific task, like filing a FOIA request, or applying for a national bank charter. That's why you'll see Top Tasks listed on the home page and topic pages that list the most popular related tasks for that topic area.

⑤ Some pages also feature a list of popular links, where the most frequently accessed pages related to a particular subject can be found quickly.

⑥ These are just a few ways to browse the new site. Another way to find information quickly is to use the improved search function, which uses the common Google interface that most people are familiar with.

⑦ New search boxes on the News and Issuances, Publications, and Tools and Forms pages help you find items in those specific areas. This makes finding that news release easy when you remember seeing one but can't remember precisely when.

⑧ Another new feature is the text size selector. It allows you to make the font smaller or larger, depending on your personal preference. Simply click S, M, or L to choose the size that is right for you.

⑨ Finally, the OCC understands that many people frequently use social networking sites like Facebook and Twitter. We've made it easy for you to stay informed of OCC news and issues by visiting us on Facebook or following us on Twitter. If you prefer e-mail or using RSS feeds, you can also subscribe to our e-mail lists or RSS feeds and receive regular updates that way.

⑩ The changes we've made help you get the most out of OCC.gov, to make your visit to OCC.gov effective. If you have any questions or comments, contact us through the link at the bottom of the site.