

Using Science to Save Lives: Latest PEPFAR Funding

“The goal of an AIDS-free generation may be ambitious, but it is possible with the knowledge and interventions we have right now. And that is something we’ve never been able to say without qualification before. Imagine what the world will look like when we succeed.”

– U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton, November 8, 2011

Launched in 2003 by President George W. Bush with strong bipartisan support, the U.S. President’s Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR) is America’s commitment to fighting the global HIV/AIDS pandemic. Through shared responsibility and smart investments, PEPFAR is saving lives, building more secure families and helping to stabilize fragile nations.

With the generous support of the American people, the U.S. Government has committed approximately $46 billion to bilateral HIV/AIDS programs, the Global Fund to Fight HIV/AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria, and bilateral TB programs through fiscal year (FY) 2010.

PEPFAR’s success is measured in lives improved and saved.

- In fiscal year 2011, PEPFAR directly supported life-saving antiretroviral treatment for more than 3.9 million men, women and children worldwide, up from less than 3.2 million in 2010.
- PEPFAR directly supported antiretroviral prophylaxis to prevent mother-to-child HIV transmission for more than 660,000 HIV-positive pregnant women in fiscal year 2011, allowing more than 200,000 infants to be born HIV-free.
- Through its partnerships with more than 80 countries, PEPFAR directly supported 13 million people with care and support, including nearly 4.1 million orphans and vulnerable children, in fiscal year 2011 alone.

PEPFAR is leading with science and making smart investments to save lives. With continued support from the U.S. Congress, PEPFAR will be able continuing working towards the goals of treating more than 6 million people.

- For FY 2012, President Obama requested $7.2 billion, including $5.6 billion for bilateral HIV/AIDS programs, $1.3 billion for the Global Fund, and $254 million for bilateral TB programs.
- For FY 2013, President Obama is requesting $6.4 billion, including more than $4.5 billion for bilateral HIV/AIDS programs, $1.6 billion for the Global Fund, and $232 million for bilateral TB programs.
