of the 110th Congress¹

[Date approved: May 14, 2008]²

Bill No. and sponsor: H.R. 4519 (Ms. Allyson Y. Schwartz of Pennsylvania).

Proponent name,³ location: Geo Specialty Chemicals, Ambler, PA.

Other bills on product (110th Congress only): None.

Nature of bill: Temporary duty suspension through December 31, 2011.

Retroactive effect: None.

Suggested article description(s) for enactment (including appropriate HTS subheading(s)):

Dicumyl peroxide, 99% minimum purity, (CAS No. 80-43-3) (provided for in subheading 2909.60.20).

Check one: Same as that in bill as introduced.
 Different from that in bill as introduced (see Technical comments section).

Product information, including uses/applications and source(s) of imports:

The subject product, a synthetic organic chemical containing a peroxide linkage, is used as a curing, polymerization, and cross-linking agent in the manufacture of plastics and industrial rubber products, such as hoses and belts (excluding tires). The commercial purity specification of the DCP active ingredient product is 99 percent. Admixtures with inorganic materials such as chalk or clay, diluted down to 40-percent DCP, are generally sold commercially as they are easier to ship and store, and to measure out into a polymer batch and mix thoroughly (a consideration with rubber compounding, which can be viscous and sticky and difficult to mix properly). The product is imported from China, Japan and Indonesia.

Technical comments:⁴

The staff suggests that the article description given on page 1 of this report be used in the proposed new heading in order to provide a concise purity level as well as to provide for the correct HTS subheading reference and the correct CAS number.

⁴ The Commission may express an opinion on the HTS classification of a product to facilitate consideration of the bill. However, by law, only the U.S. Customs Service is authorized to issue a binding ruling on this matter. The Commission believes that the U.S. Customs Service should be consulted prior to enactment of the bill.
