NCUA Regional Town Hall Meetings to Discuss New Corporate Rules, Asset Plans

NCUA Will Host 11 Regional Town Halls in October

September 27, 2010, Alexandria, Va. – The National Credit Union Administration is announcing a series of 11 Town Hall meetings across the country in October in an effort to reach as many stakeholders as possible to explain the comprehensive new rules relating to corporate credit union operations and corporate legacy asset resolution.

A Town Hall webinar today opens an active schedule of Regional Town Hall meetings to be hosted in cities across the nation: Atlanta, Boston, Dallas, Chicago, Columbus, Detroit, Los Angeles, Orlando, Phoenix, Portland, and Alexandria, Va.

"To make sure that credit union officials have an opportunity to be personally briefed and ask questions, we are holding at least two face-to-face meetings in every region to reach as many stakeholders as possible," commented Chairman Matz. "NCUA Board members and senior staff will be on-hand to discuss NCUA's corporate initiatives in detail and engage in a two-way dialogue so that credit union leaders can more fully understand the choices available to them."

The Town Hall Meetings are open to all credit union stakeholders, and NCUA encourages audience participation.

NCUA is the independent federal agency that regulates, charters and supervises federal credit unions. With the backing of the full faith and credit of the U.S. government, NCUA operates and manages the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund, insuring the deposits of over 90 million account holders in all federal credit unions and the overwhelming majority of state-chartered credit unions.
