COMMISSION ANNOUNCEMENTS

MARK J. READY NAMED CHIEF ECONOMIST

Chairman Levitt today named Mark J. Ready as Chief Economist and Director of the Commission's Office of Economic Analysis. Dr. Ready, who will join the Commission in April, succeeds Erik Sirri.

Chairman Levitt said, "I look forward to Mark joining the Commission in this important role. The Commission will benefit greatly from Mark's breadth of knowledge and depth of experience in the area of market microstructure. It is a vital time in our market's history and we are fortunate to have such an accomplished economist and scholar at the Commission. I am also extremely appreciative and thankful of the superb work of Acting Chief Economist William Atkinson, who has served with distinction."

Dr. Ready said, "I am honored that Chairman Levitt has selected me for this position. I look forward to serving the Commission in my new capacity and hope to contribute significantly to the many complex and challenging issues facing the Commission."

As Chief Economist, Dr. Ready will advise the Commission and its staff on the economic issues associated with the SEC's regulatory and policy activities. In addition, Dr. Ready will manage the Office of Economic Analysis, which analyzes the potential impacts and benefits of proposed regulations, conducts studies on specific rules, and engages in long-term research and policy planning. The Office also analyzes data on a wide range of market activities that may require attention by the SEC.

Dr. Ready joined the School of Business (Department of Finance) at the University of Wisconsin-Madison in 1990 as an assistant professor, and was promoted to associate professor with tenure in 1997. He has also been an Aschenbrenner Faculty Scholar at the University of Wisconsin-Madison since 1998. In addition to his academic positions, Dr. Ready was chief financial officer at V.I.P. Structures Inc. from 1987 to 1988 and a financial analyst and supervisor at Ford Motor Co. from 1978 to 1985. Additionally, from 1998 until coming to the Commission, Dr. Ready served on the Nasdaq's Economic Advisory Board.

Much of Dr Ready's research has focused on market microstructure. His most recent publication, "The Specialist's Discretion: Stopped Orders and Price Improvement" appeared in the December 1999 issue of the Review of Financial Studies.

Dr Ready, 44, has a B.S. in operations research and an M.B.A., M.S., and Ph D in finance from Cornell University (Press Rel 2000-41)

SEC ANNOUNCES TENTH ANNUAL INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE

The Commission is hosting its 10th annual International Institute for Securities Market Development, beginning on Monday, April 3, 2000. The two-week, executive level program is the cornerstone of the SEC's international technical assistance program. The Institute provides an opportunity to discuss the core principles of securities regulation among a wide-ranging group of participants from emerging markets. It features panels and workshops conducted by SEC staff and officials from the securities industry, the private bar, and international development organizations.

This year, the Institute audience will include over 100 senior securities officials from 64 emerging market countries. Prior Institutes have provided training for nearly 800 officials from all five continents. A list of countries represented at this year's Institute is attached.

The program will commence at 9:30 a.m. with welcoming remarks by SEC Commissioner Isaac C. Hunt, Jr. David Ruder, former SEC Chairman and currently Professor of Law at Northwestern University, School of Law, will give the keynote address at 11:30 a.m. Each of these talks is open to the press and will be delivered at the SEC's headquarters in Room IC30, 450 Fifth Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. (Press Rel 2000-42)

MEDIA ADVISORY - ARE BABY BOOMERS ILL-PREPARED FOR RETIREMENT?

Financial Literacy Campaign To Host Expert Panel Discussion

Experts say that time is running out for many Baby Boomers who want to retire soon. As part of this year's Facts on Saving and Investing Campaign, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the North American Securities Administrators Association (NASAA), and the American Savings Education Council (ASEC) will host a panel discussion on April 4th to address how millions of Baby Boomers could find themselves struggling financially in retirement unless they start saving now.

Moderated by Dallas L. Salisbury, president and CEO of the Employee Benefit Research Institute (EBRI) and chairman of ASEC, the panel will include: Congressman Jesse L. Jackson, Jr.; Tom Gardner, co-founder of The Motley Fool, Paul R. Carey, Commissioner of the SEC, William A. Halter, Deputy Commissioner of the Social Security Administration, Bradley Skolnik, Indiana's Securities Commissioner and president of NASAA; and Robert L. Reynolds, President, Fidelity Investments Institutional Retirement Group.

ENFORCEMENT PROCEEDINGS

SUMMARY JUDGMENT GRANTED AGAINST BRENT WAGMAN

On March 24, Judge Barbara M G Lynn of the U S District Court for the Northern District of Texas (Dallas Division) granted the Commission's Motion for Summary Judgment against Brent A Wagman Judge Lynn permanently enjoined Mr Wagman from future violations of the antifraud and registration provisions of the federal securities laws Judge Lynn further ordered Mr Wagman to disgorge approximately $24 million, which represents investor losses resulting from the fraudulent distribution of nine-month promissory notes on behalf of Redbank Petroleum, Inc and AmeriTech Petroleum, Inc from 1996 through 1999 In addition, Judge Lynn ordered Mr Wagman to pay the maximum civil penalty of $110,000

Mr Wagman, and two of his colleagues, Warren T Donohue and Margaret F Swinney, were indicted by a grand jury in the U S District Court for the Northern District of Texas with two counts of securities fraud on March 21, 2000 The indictment alleged that the defendants made material misrepresentations and omissions to the public to encourage investments in Redbank and AmeriTech.

Mr Wagman, the former president of Redbank and AmeriTech, is presently in the custody of federal authorities On March 10, 2000 he was arrested in Panama and brought back to the United States to face criminal charges He and his family had fled to Panama last summer after the Commission filed its lawsuit against him

The Commission's complaint alleged that Redbank and Ameritech, at Wagman's direction, offered and sold approximately $30 million in so-called high interest corporate notes to investors in numerous states. The corporate notes were offered to retirees and others as risk-free investments with above market rates of return, and backed by an unconditional guarantee by an independent insurance company. In fact, no such guarantee existed. Rather than using investors' monies for the stated purposes, funds were diverted to fund the operations of several other entities under Wagman's control, and for personal expenses of Wagman. The defendants also used investors' funds as "Ponzi" payments to lull existing investors and to lure new ones. CIVIL ACTION AGAINST RENAISSANCE CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, INC., ET AL.

The Commission announced that it filed a complaint on March 30 in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York charging five individuals and two entities with having defrauded at least 89 investors of more than $2.4 million through the sale of unregistered common stock of NNPD Textiles, Inc (NNPD) -- a struggling, family-owned knitting business. The Commission alleges that the individuals charged in the complaint diverted the proceeds raised from the fraudulent scheme to themselves and to pay personal expenses. Named in the complaint are

Renaissance Capital Management, Inc. (Renaissance Capital), a New York corporation that, until April 1999, was located in Farmingdale, New York,

NNPD Escrow Holdings Company, Inc. (NNPD Escrow), a New York corporation that, until April 1999, was located in Farmingdale, New York;

Allen Andrescu (Andrescu), a 25 year old former resident of Merrick, New York, who is the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and sole owner of Renaissance Capital, and who is the CEO and President of NNPD Escrow,

Richard Brower, a 26 year old resident of Merrick, New York, who was employed by Renaissance Capital from May 1997 to June 1998;

Mark Coates, a 28 year old resident of Hempstead, New York, who was employed by Renaissance Capital from May 1997 to January 1998;

Vikram Randhawa, a 29 year old former resident of Albertson, New York, who managed the day-to-day operations of Renaissance Capital from June 1997 to March 1999, and Tejbir Singh A/K/A Raj Nanvaan, a 22 year old resident of West Babylon, New York, who was employed by Renaissance Capital from February 1998 to June 1998.

Also named in the complaint as relief defendants are

Ana Andrescu (A Andrescu), a 48 year old resident of Massapequa, New York, who is Andrescu's mother and who received at least $19,500 from the proceeds of the sale of NNPD stock,

Jon Andrescu (J. Andrescu), a 52 year old resident of Massapequa, New York, who is Andrescu's father and who received at least $9,900 from the proceeds of the sale of NNPD stock; and

Magic Knits LTD, a New York corporation located in Brooklyn, New York, which is wholly owned by J Andrescu and which received at least $66,000 from the proceeds of the sale of NNPD stock

The complaint alleges that from at least October 1997 to at least March 1999, Andrescu, Brower, Coates, Randhawa and Singh, through two companies that Andrescu controlled, Renaissance Capital and NNPD Escrow (collectively, Defendants), conducted a fraudulent private placement of NNPD stock. The complaint alleges that, among other things, Defendants falsely represented that investors would be able to sell their NNPD shares for a substantial profit in an imminent initial public offering (IPO) by NNPD, that NNPD projected substantial and growing future revenues, and that the proceeds of the sale of NNPD stock would be paid to NNPD. According to the complaint, in fact, there was no real possibility that NNPD would successfully conduct an IPO, the revenue projections were without basis in fact, and, while NNPD received no more than $100,000 of the over $2.4 million raised in the offering, Defendants diverted the bulk of the proceeds raised from the offering to themselves and to pay personal expenses. The Commission alleges that, through this conduct, Defendants violated the antifraud provisions set forth in Section 17(a) of the Securities Act of 1933 (Securities Act) and Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Exchange Act) and Rule 10b-5. In addition, the Commission alleges that Defendants violated the registration provisions set forth in Sections 5(a) and 5(c) of the Securities Act by unlawfully selling unregistered NNPD stock.

The Commission seeks a final judgment permanently enjoining Renaissance Capital, NNPD Escrow, Andrescu, Brower, Coates, Randhawa and Singh, from violating Sections 5 and 17(a) of the Securities Act and Section 10(b) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 thereunder, ordering them to account for and to disgorge their ill-gotten gains plus prejudgment interest, and assessing civil penalties. The Commission also seeks an order requiring A. Andrescu, J. Andrescu and Magic Knits to account for and to disgorge the amounts they were paid from the proceeds of the sale of NNPD stock plus prejudgment interest.

The Commission thanks the New York Attorney General's Office for its cooperation in this matter. The litigation is pending [SEC v Renaissance Capital Management, Inc., et al., CIV 00 1848, PLATT, EDNY] (LR-16492, AAE Rel 1245).

SEC CHARGES INTERNET MESSAGE BOARD POSTER WITH SECURITIES FRAUD

On March 30, the Commission filed a complaint charging Fred Moldofsky, a self-described day trader residing in Houston, Texas, with securities fraud for posting a fake press release related to Lucent Technologies, Inc (Lucent) on a Yahoo! Finance message board. The complaint alleges that Moldofsky posted the fake release, which purported to announce a quarterly earnings shortfall, more than 20 times on March 22 and March 23, 2000. The complaint alleges that Moldofski used at least four screen names to post or comment on the release, one of which was designed to resemble a screen name used by a frequent commentator on the Lucent message board who historically had expressed a positive view of Lucent stock. Lucent stock closed on March 22 at $62.625, down $2.625 from the opening price that day. On March 23, Lucent opened at $62.125 and traded as low as $60.375 before the fraudulent press release was disavowed. The complaint alleges that Moldofsky violated Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and Rule 10b-5 thereunder. In a related action (U.S. v. Moldofsky, 00 MAG 0622), Moldofsky was arrested on charges of securities fraud contained in a criminal complaint filed by the United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York and the United States Postal Inspection Service [SEC v. Fred Moldofsky, 00 Civ 2425, SDNY, Baer] (LR-16493)
