Re: In the Matter of Applications of Comcast Corporation, General Electric Company and NBC Universal, Inc. For Consent to Assign Licenses or Transfer Control of Licensees,
MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Mr. Lake:

In response to the ex parte filing submitted earlier today on behalf of the American Cable Association (“ACA”) raising issues about the accessibility of the data Comcast produced in response to the Commission’s Information and Discovery Request,¹ Comcast has provided ACA’s Authorized Representatives with the native Excel files that Comcast produced to the Commission on Friday, June 11, and that ACA received in PDF format on June 15.² Therefore, there is no need for Commission action on this issue.

This result is consistent with Comcast’s accommodation of another party in this proceeding through direct and informal communications with that party.³ Comcast is willing to provide this data in its native format to any other authorized party that requests it from Comcast’s outside counsel.⁴

¹ Letter from Barbara S. Esbin, Counsel for American Cable Association, to William T. Lake, Chief, Media Bureau, Federal Communications Commission, MB Docket No. 10-56 (June 16, 2010).

² See the attached letter from Brien C. Bell, Counsel for Comcast, to Ross Lieberman, Vice President of Government Affairs, ACA (June 16, 2010).

³ Had ACA’s counsel contacted Comcast’s counsel directly, a similar accommodation could have been reached without the need for filings with the Commission.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

Respectfully submitted,

Michael H. Hammer

⁴ Comcast provided to authorized third parties copies of the materials submitted to the Commission in response to the Information and Discovery Request in PDF format on discs, rather than in paper hard copy, both to help expedite delivery and to make review of the materials more efficient. See In the Matter of Applications of Comcast Corporation, General Electric Company and NBC Universal, Inc. for Consent to Assign Licenses or Transfer Control of Licensees, MB Docket No. 10-56, Protective Order, DA 10-370 ¶ 8 (Mar. 4, 2010) (allowing for distribution of a complete set of stamped paper copies upon a party's request); In the Matter of Applications of Comcast Corporation, General Electric Company and NBC Universal, Inc. for Consent to Assign Licenses or Transfer Control of Licensees, MB Docket No. 10-56, Second Protective Order, DA 10-371 ¶ 12(b) (Mar. 4, 2010) (same). Upon request by authorized parties, Comcast has promptly provided spreadsheet files in native Excel format to facilitate those parties' analysis of that data. In addition, the materials Comcast produced to the Commission on June 11, 2010, were produced in formats that complied with detailed specifications, including ones that were modified by the Commission staff on June 3, 2010, to ensure compatibility with new software recently implemented by the Commission. It is unclear whether authorized third parties have the same software and capabilities to use the data in the specific format provided to the Commission. Should any authorized party request the materials in that format, Comcast will promptly accommodate such request.

Dear Mr. Lieberman:

In response to the ex parte letter filed on behalf of the American Cable Association earlier today,¹ and pursuant to the Protective Order² and Second Protective Order³ in MB Docket No. 10-56, enclosed please find two discs containing the native Excel files that Comcast produced to the Commission on Friday, June 11 (one disc contains the files designated Confidential, and one disc contains the files designated Highly Confidential). These files contain the same data that were provided to you on Tuesday morning, and the file names are identical except for the different file extension (.xls instead of .pdf).

We are providing these files to you as a courtesy, and we will provide the same discs to your outside counsel and outside consultants, who are cc'ed below. Having access to these native Excel files addresses ACA's concerns about Comcast's production. Comcast received a similar request for these native Excel files from another authorized party yesterday, which we accommodated through direct and informal communications with that party. You should feel free to call us directly if you have any other questions or concerns about the materials we have provided to you.
