"It is obvious that The FCC does NOT work for the general public, anymore. Regardless of the fact that the air waves are SUPPOSED to belong to the general public. -This greed and hunger for power is NOT going to last forever. It will be impossible for these power hungry corporations to hide this sort of "take over" from the general public. -Like I said, it won't last long before organization like Comcast start noticing that there are financial consequences to greed.
