

FY09 System Optimization Reviews

California

East Bay Municipal Utility District: The District will develop an Advanced Metering Implementation Plan for system optimization. The total project cost is $600,048, including a Reclamation contribution of $300,000.

Tulare Irrigation District: The District will perform a Regional Water Management Study for the optimization of surface and groundwater resources. The total project cost is $655,150, including a Reclamation contribution of $300,000.

City of Folsom: The City will perform a System Optimization Review and Conjunctive Use Project for the optimization of surface and groundwater resources. The total project cost is $1,973,518, including a Reclamation contribution of $299,705.

Nebraska

Bostwick Irrigation District: The District will conduct a study to identify opportunities to conserve and manage local water supplies within the District. The total project cost is $53,700, including a Reclamation contribution of $26,850.

Utah

Kearns Improvement District: The District will perform an evaluation for water management improvements and potential for water reuse. The total project cost is $164,605, including a Reclamation contribution of $80,000.