This chart compares the holding library to all libraries in the OCLC network. Uniqueness is determined by the number of libraries that have attached their symbol to the bibliographic record. The holdings comparison is therefore at the title level. A given title can represent multiple items as is the case with serials. This initial OCLC comparison does not compare data at the item level. Specific item- or volume-level holdings uniqueness has yet to be determined.

Grouping post-2000 are grouped up to 2006 and then presented as individual years afterwards.
