The National Defense University Library on historic Ft. McNair supports the research needs of four colleges, four research centers, three regional centers and many special programs in the areas of national security policy, military strategy, defense resource management, and industry studies.

Unique to its collections are the papers of several of the Chairmen of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and of the Supreme Allied Commanders of Europe. The NDU Library also provides outreach through its extensive public Web collections on the Military Education Research Library Network (MERLN).

The tour will include a historic walking tour of Ft. McNair.
