14 FAH-3 H-611 BACKGROUND

(CT:AQM-2; 04-21-2008)

The Federal Acquisition Reform Act (see 41 U.S.C. 433) requires each agency to establish a system for granting performance incentives to acquisition employees for success in areas such as meeting cost, schedule, or performance goals. This legal requirement reinforces the tenets of good management.

14 FAH-3 H-612.1 Certificate of Appreciation

(CT:AQM-2; 04-21-2008)

The Procurement Executive has an existing system of issuing a formal Certificate of Appreciation to employees who perform valuable service in the acquisition process. Certificates may be issued for one-time accomplishments or a continuing effort. Nominations may be submitted to the Procurement Executive at any time and in any format. These certificates are useful as a prompt means of providing recognition to employees who have improved the acquisition process or made worthwhile contributions to the procurement system.

14 FAH-3 H-612.2 Incentive Awards Program

(CT:AQM-2; 04-21-2008)

The Department's Incentive Award Program is described in the 3 FAM 4800 and in 3 FAH-1 H-4800. Contracting activities are encouraged to use this system to provide monetary and other recognition to employees who have made substantive contributions to the Department's procurement system.
