

Biography

DEFENSE COMMISSARY AGENCY
1300 E Avenue, Fort Lee, Virginia 23801-1800

Daniel W. Sclater Chief, DeCA Washington Office

Dan Sclater is chief of the Defense Commissary Agency's Washington, D.C., office, where he serves as DeCA's liaison to a wide variety of organizations, including the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the chiefs of the uniformed services, Congress, trade associations, and other governmental activities.

Mr. Sclater also advises the DeCA director and staff on all congressional and DoD issues related to commissary resale policies and operations, and articulates DeCA's positions on issues during DoD meetings, study groups and special task forces held in the Washington, D.C., area.

He assumed his current position in 1995 after being DeCA's legislative specialist since the inception of the Defense Commissary Agency in 1991.

EDUCATION

1976, Bachelor's degree in business administration, College of William and Mary

CAREER CHRONOLOGY

1977-1979, commissary management specialist, Army Troop Support Agency, Fort Lee, Va.

1979-1981, commissary management specialist, Army Troop Support Agency, Southeast Region, Fort Lee, Va.

1981-1985, store director, Patch Barracks and Robinson Barracks, Stuttgart, Germany

1985-1986, commissary management specialist, Department of the Army, Washington, D.C.

1987-1988, chief, subsistence branch, Department of the Army, Washington, D.C.

1990-1991, chief of personnel organization, Commissary Transition Team

1991-1995, legislative specialist, Defense Commissary Agency, Washington, D.C.

1995-present, chief, DeCA Washington Office, Washington, D.C.

(Current as of June 2007)