Date June 7, 1963

MEDGAR EVERS, Field Secretary, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), Jackson, Mississippi, furnished the following information:

EVERS' suspicions that his office and home phones are being tapped date back to three or four years ago. These suspicions were aroused because of unusual amount of static on telephone lines and a feeling as if he were listening in a vacuum. This trouble was reported to the local telephone company sometime ago by EVERS but same situation has continued. EVERS feels the three phones at the NAACP office and his home phone are presently tapped. This feeling is based on unusual noises on the telephone lines, exceptional amount of static, muted voices and a hollow sound as if someone were listening. The NAACP office phones are FL 36906, FL 38452 and 3554051. EVERS' home phone is 3623020.

About May 27, 1963, EVERS was in downtown Jackson and dialed one of his office phone numbers, exact number not recalled, and reached a local telephone operator who told EVERS that he had dialed a non-working number. EVERS told the operator that the number he dialed was his office phone number, that he had paid the telephone bills and there was no reason why it should not be working. Immediately after discontinuing conversation with the operator, EVERS again dialed this number and was connected.

On June 5, 1963, EVERS made a telephone call from one of his office phones but does not recall which phone was used. He does not recall with whom he was talking nor the topic of conversation. After terminating this conversation, he immediately picked up the phone to dial again and thinking there was someone on the phone because there was no dial tone said, "Hello, hello," and was answered by a female operator who identified herself as being with the Jackson telephone company. The operator asked EVERS from which number he was calling and hung up.

EVERS explained that two of his office phones function properly on incoming calls but do not function properly when making outside calls. He expects these phones to be repaired on June 7, 1963.

(b)(7)(C) EVERS recalls no specific instances where conversation he has had over the phones have been disseminated to unauthorized persons. EVERS has no detailed information concerning instances involving other NAACP personnel but has heard general comments made concerning instances surrounding experiences of [REDACTED] and others connected with the NAACP.

EVERS said that when officers saw him start across Franklin Street, the driver of the police car accelerated causing the speed of the car to increase and EVERS had to jump back on to the curb of Franklin Street to keep from being struck by the police vehicle. EVERS said the officers laughed about this. According to EVERS this police car bore license [REDACTED]
