

A DLA recruiter attended the 2012 Fall Career Fair at Wright St. University in Dayton, Ohio on September 19th. The career fair offered business students the opportunity to meet with employers representing various business, non-profit and government organizations. DLA was among 60 business organizations represented including 2 other Government Agencies. Job seekers visited the DLA booth to discuss job opportunities, agency locations, and the various career fields within DLA. Many of the students were enrolled in business degree programs such as Marketing and Supply Chain Management.
