DoD Center of Excellence in Logistics & Technology (LOGTECH)
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Eligible Grades	Senior Executive Service High-potential GS-15s may also be considered on an exception basis
Program Length	4 ½ days
Location	The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's Paul J. Rizzo Conference Center, Chapel Hill, North Carolina
Funding	Tuition, travel, and per diem are centrally funded through Army Materiel Command (DoD Executive Agent for LOGTECH)
Course Dates	Feb 4-8, 2013 Sep 9-13, 2013
Course Description	The purpose of the program is to facilitate the transformation of DoD logistics in the following ways: 1) introduction to leading-edge logistics developments in DoD, academia, and industry; 2) promote the exchange of ideas within the greater logistics community toward the objective of enhancing the National Defense posture; and 3) to provide DoD with strategic leadership to transform Defense Logistics. The program exposes participants to such topics as the Logistics Modernization Program, Enterprise Resource Planning, facilitating the Global Combat Support System, Alliances, Change Management, Product Lifecycle Management, and Enabling Technologies. Case studies from both Defense and Industry are reviewed, analyzed, and discussed with regard to concepts, policies, practices, and applicability in the DoD environment. Guest speakers, group exercises and computer-based models are used to stimulate and explore "out-of-the-box" thinking about current and future logistics. Participation in pre- and post-program web-based learning activities is required.
