FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo. – Have you ever been in a room with 125 moms-to-be and new mothers?

Well, from 4 to 6 p.m., this Saturday, the USO and Operation Homefront have teamed up to host a “Bundles and Boots” baby shower at the Fort Leonard Wood USO, in which 125 moms-to-be, new mothers and their spouses are slated to take part.

These registered participants will receive car seats, diapers, wipes, books and other baby items. There will be food and prizes as well. Army Community Service, SIDS Resource Center, and Child and Youth Services are slated to have informational booths available.

According to Kelly Brownfield, USO facility manager, it is estimated that some 300 people are slated to take part in the baby shower as mothers, volunteers and supporters.

Registration for the event is closed; however, volunteers are more than welcome to assist. For more information, contact Brownfield at 573.329.2039.
