5. PROVIDING STATUS OF OR REQUESTING CHANGES TO TASKINGS

a. Role of the Secretary of Defense Correspondence Action Report, SD Form 391

(1) CMOs must submit an SD Form 391 with all action correspondence to request the actions in subparagraphs 5.a.(1)(a) through 5.a.(1)(f) of this enclosure. The SD Form 391 can be obtained on the Internet at http://www.dtic.mil/whs/directives/infomgt/forms/forminfo/forminfopage1203.html or by contacting the CMD Suspense Desk.

(b) Request a suspense extension.

(c) Forward a copy of an interim reply to CMD.

(d) Request cancellation of an action.

(e) Request transfer of an assigned action to another OSD or DoD Component. The request shall provide the name and phone number of the Component point of contact (POC) accepting the action and a rationale to justify the transfer.

(1) To appeal an action assignment, an executive officer or military assistant to the Head of an OSD or DoD Component or to an agency head (or higher-level person in the responsible office) shall contact CMD within 24 hours of the date of receipt.

(a) If returned within 24 hours with a reasonable rationale for reassignment, CMD will typically accept the action for transfer without further coordination and re-task the action.

(b) If Section 3, "Tasked Agency," of an SD Form 391 is originated or completed by a tasked OSD or DoD Component, the Secretary of the Military Department, Under Secretary of the Military Department, military or executive assistant, or designated official from the tasked OSD or DoD Component Head's executive secretariat shall clearly sign, or digitally sign, the SD Form 391 to indicate review and concurrence with the requested action.

(2) The action office is responsible for coordinating all action assignment transfers after the initial 24-hour period. When requesting transfer, the initiating office shall ensure the accepting official has the authority to accept and the capability to complete the action; annotate the SD Form 391 with the name, office, and telephone number of the accepting official; and return it with the tasked document(s) to CMD. CMD shall then forward it to the new responsible office with a revised suspense, as appropriate.

(a) When newspaper articles, press releases, speeches by DoD officials, or policy change announcements result in repeated public inquiries or a write-in campaign, the OSD or DoD Component assigned initial action may initiate a transfer to the ASD(PA) and request the Office of the ASD(PA) be designated as the responsible office for future inquiries on the subject.

(b) When initiating a transfer to the ASD(PA), the initial action office shall return the original correspondence (if the original was received) and proposed reply to CMD along with the SD Form 391 annotated with the name and telephone number of the ASD(PA) accepting official.

(c) The responsible office shall furnish the ASD(PA) with information upon which to base replies and updated information if circumstances change.

(3) On occasion, the SecDef or DepSecDef, their Military or Special Assistants, or the ExecSec may change an action assignment. In these instances, CMD shall forward a revised action assignment notifying the responsible office that the requirement has changed.

6. COORDINATING ASSIGNED ACTIONS. CMOs shall:

b. For correspondence prepared for SecDef, DepSecDef, or ExecSec signature, obtain concurrence or comments from the Heads of the OSD and DoD Components or, in their absence, their Principal Deputies.

c. For correspondence prepared for the signature of the Heads of the OSD and DoD Components, or below, obtain coordination at the appropriate level as determined by the responding Component.

d. Not allow disagreements about recommendations or lack of response from a coordinating office to delay the action. To address such situations, CMOs shall:

(1) List nonconcurrences and place the comments at the coordination tab of the action package.

(2) Address nonconcurrence issues in a memorandum or attached supplement.

(3) For failures to respond, note on the coordination sheet when coordination was attempted but not accomplished, and include the amount of time allotted.

ENCLOSURE 6

WRITING STYLE AND PREFERRED USAGE

1. GENERAL GUIDELINES. Whether writing a memorandum for SecDef information or action or drafting a letter for SecDef signature, DoD correspondence must adhere to the highest standards of clarity and professionalism. Because correspondence is often drafted by persons other than the signer, it is important to consider these guidelines in the context of both the sender and the recipient of the communication:

   a. Action and Info Memorandums. Action and Info Memorandums should be brief and to the point. The objective of the memorandum should dictate the length, but generally the memorandum proper should provide only the material necessary for action or information; extensive background information and supporting material should be attached. (See Enclosure 7 for guidance on structuring memorandums.)

   b. Correspondence for Principals' Signatures. Regardless of the routine or customary nature of any individual piece of correspondence, all items signed by the SecDef or DepSecDef or the ExecSec must exhibit the highest quality. Writers must seriously consider the signer as well as the addressee and adapt the correspondence accordingly.

   c. References. Good writing skills develop with time, training, and experience. If specific guidance is not provided in this Manual, writers shall use the U.S. Government Printing Office Style Manual, including supplements (Reference (k)) as the authority for answers to questions concerning punctuation, capitalization, spelling, numerals, compound words, writing style, etc. Other possible references are Merriam-Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary and the Chicago Manual of Style (References (l) and (m)).

2. PREPARATION. Preparation is the first step to good writing. The writer must assess the subject, audience, and purpose of the communication and keep these in mind throughout the writing process. These elements of preparation are interrelated and can be assessed simultaneously:

   a. Subject Line on Memorandums and Messages

      (1) In DoD memorandums and messages, the assignment or generating organization may determine the subject. Clarifying and refining the subject helps the writer organize and present the most relevant information clearly. These questions assist in refining the subject:

         (a) What is the assignment or question?

         (b) What does the audience need or want to know?

         (c) How specific or general should the communication be?

(2) Action and Info Memorandums should normally be limited to a single subject. If it is necessary to communicate information about multiple subjects, the writer should consider using separate memorandums.

(3) The subject line should clearly communicate the subject in one or two lines. The writer should avoid vague, one-word subjects and use instead specific descriptions that indicate or summarize the content of the memorandum or message as shown in Table 6.

Table 6. Examples of Vague Subjects and Suggested Alternatives

VAGUE SUBJECTS	SPECIFIC, DESCRIPTIVE SUBJECTS
SUBJECT: Iraq	SUBJECT: October 2007 Assessment of Iraq Provincial Reconstruction Teams
SUBJECT: Budget Issues	SUBJECT: Budget Projections for Fiscal Year 2010

b. Audience

(1) Official DoD correspondence should have a specific audience. Determining the audience helps to tailor the message and present information in the most appropriate way. When drafting correspondence for SecDef or DepSecDef signature, the audience may be an OSD Component Head, a member of Congress, the President of the United States, or family members of a fallen Service member. Writers should carefully consider the audience from the perspective of the signer.

(2) These questions assist in determining the audience:

(a) Who will read this communication?

(b) What is the signer's relationship to the audience?

(c) What does the audience already know about this subject?

(d) What tone should be used to address this audience (formal, informal, etc.)?

c. Purpose

(1) DoD official correspondence must have a specific purpose. Like the subject of a memorandum or message, the purpose of correspondence may be determined by an assignment or initiated by the generating organization. Common purposes include:

(a) Providing options or recommendations.

(b) Requesting authorization.

(c) Reporting or summarizing information.

(d) Evaluating, analyzing, or interpreting data.

(2) These questions assist in refining the purpose:

(a) What is the aim of the assignment?

(b) What must this communication accomplish?

(c) How can its purpose best be achieved?

3. ORGANIZATION, CLARITY, AND STYLE. DoD correspondence should neither be so brief that it lacks clarity, nor so wordy that it clouds rather than illustrates the message. There is no one-size-fits-all formula for writing style; a meeting summary will be different in style than a letter of condolence. By applying the basic principles of organization and clarity, a writer can communicate the essential information clearly and completely, in a style most appropriate to the message.

a. Organization. The organization of a document should flow logically from refinement of the subject, audience, and purpose. The organizational scheme should fit the subject and purpose and ideas should be organized according to the scheme.

(1) Common Organizational Schemes

(a) Chronological. Arranges events in sequential order, from first to last.

(b) Systematic. Arranges events, people, or things according to their placement in a system or process.

(c) Comments and Recommendations (or Problem and Solution). Provides background information and evaluates a situation; then provides one or more options or recommendations for future action.

(d) General to Specific. Arranges by main point or points and fills in supporting details, examples, and illustrations.

(2) Outlining. See Enclosure 6 to Volume 2 for information on using an outline to develop the organizational scheme.

(3) Transitions. Transitional phrases are used to highlight organization, to facilitate the flow of writing from point to point, and to improve clarity and readability. Table 7 provides a list of transitional phrases and their uses.

Table 7. Transitional Phrases and Their Uses

USE	TRANSITIONAL PHRASE
Time or Sequence	– first, second, third... – first, next, last... – once, then, finally – again, also, and – afterward, following, at length, since, subsequently, thereafter – before, formerly, lately – now, meanwhile, currently, simultaneously
Comparison or Contrast	– likewise, similarly, in the same way – but, yet, however, nevertheless, notwithstanding, while, still – despite, in spite of, regardless, in contrast – on one hand, on the other hand – instead, on the contrary, otherwise
Illustration or Expansion	– for example, for instance – moreover, furthermore, namely – incidentally, indeed, in fact
Summary or Conclusion	– in conclusion, in summary – to conclude, to summarize – therefore, hence, thus
Cause or Effect	– as a result, consequently, since – accordingly, because, thus, therefore, hence

(4) Bullets. Bullets provide a simple format for structuring main ideas or listing supporting ideas, concepts, items, or steps. They facilitate efficient communication by marking portions of text to indicate divisions and relationships among concepts within a communication. (See the Appendixes to Enclosures 7 and 8 for examples of bullets in DoD correspondence.)

(a) Bullets for Main Ideas. Bullets should be used to illustrate main ideas in standard, Action, and Info Memorandums, except that they may not be used for main ideas in letters or memorandums for SecDef or DepSecDef signature. One bullet should be used for each paragraph. Transitional phrases ("moreover," "finally," etc.) should not be used to lead off bullets if their use would be redundant.

(b) Bullets for Supporting Ideas. If it would facilitate communication, bullets and sub-bullets within bulleted paragraphs may be used to illustrate significant supporting ideas that relate directly to the main idea. Complete sentences should be used to express supporting ideas. Bullets and sub-bullets should be avoided if the ideas are simple enough to be stated clearly in the text of the paragraph or would be more clearly expressed by use of transitional phrases.

(c) Bullets for Lists. Bullets may be used to list concepts, items, or steps when the list is ordinal or sequential. There must be at least two items in the list. An introductory phrase should present the points that follow, and each bullet should begin with the same type of word (e.g., a verb or a noun) in the same tense and voice.

b. Clarity and Style. Because of the nature of the DoD mission, clarity is of utmost importance in DoD communication. Clarity may be achieved by identifying the ACTORS in the text and clearly linking them to specific, meaningful ACTIONS. Asking the question, "WHO does WHAT?" assists in identifying actors and actions.

(1) Active Versus Passive Voice. One major obstacle to clear communication is excessive use of the passive voice. (See Table 8 for examples of active and passive voice.)

(a) Active Voice. Normal English sentence structure follows the ACTOR – ACTION – OBJECT pattern, or "who does what to whom." Example: "Bill (actor) gave (action) Jimmy (object) the car (object)."

(b) Passive Voice. The passive voice substitutes the actor with the object, using the verb "to be" and a past participle. Example: "The car was given to Jimmy" or "Jimmy was given the car." The passive voice lacks clarity because it does not identify the actor.

(c) Exceptions. In some situations, the passive voice is necessary or preferable to the active voice. Generally, however, use of the active voice produces greater clarity because it states who does what, usually in fewer words.

Table 8. Examples of Passive Voice and Suggested Alternatives

Passive Voice Frequently OMITS THE DOER	Active Voice IDENTIFIES THE DOER
The policy change WAS ANNOUNCED at the working group meeting.	The Chairman ANNOUNCED the policy change at the working group meeting.
The meeting WAS ATTENDED by delegates from each organization.	Delegates from each organization ATTENDED the meeting.

(2) Weak Verb Phrases. Writers should use strong, simple, active verbs to describe specific actions, rather than weak verb phrases that rely on the verbs "to be" or "to have" to complete the action. Such phrases obscure meaning and result in wordy, ambiguous sentences. Writers should also avoid the phrases "there is" and "there are," which detach the actor from the action, resulting in vague communication. (See Table 9.)

Table 9. Examples of Weak Verb Phrases and Suggested Alternatives

Instead of WEAK VERB PHRASES	Use STRONG ACTIVE VERBS (Actor, ACTION)
THERE WERE several members in attendance.	Several members ATTENDED.
IT IS INCUMBENT UPON each member TO ENSURE a POC IS IDENTIFIED.	Each member MUST IDENTIFY a POC.
The members WERE IN AGREEMENT that the policy WAS IN NEED OF revision.	The members AGREED that the policy SHOULD BE REVISED. – or – The members AGREED to revise the policy.
…MADE A SUGGESTION…	…SUGGESTED…
…WAS DESIROUS OF…	…WANTED…
…HAS A REQUIREMENT…	…REQUIRES…
…CAME TO A DECISION…	…DECIDED…

        (3) Subject-Verb Agreement. Problems with subject-verb agreement result in confusing and sometimes embarrassing writing. Writers must ensure that the verb of the sentence applies correctly to the subject. (See Table 10 for subject and verb guidelines.)

                (a) Writers may have trouble identifying problems with subject-verb agreement when the subject and the verb are far removed from each other in a sentence.

                (b) A sentence with more than one subject may require a singular or plural verb depending on how the subjects are related.

                        1. Subjects joined by "and" usually require a plural verb.

                        2. Where subjects are joined by "or" or "nor," the noun closest to the verb dictates the form. If a subject contains a singular noun and a plural noun, the plural noun should be placed closer to the (plural) verb to enhance readability.

                        3. Some indefinite pronouns, when used as subjects, require only singular verbs (i.e., "anyone," "anything," "each," "either," "everyone," "everything," "much," "neither," "none," "nothing," "someone," and "something").

Table 10. Subject-Verb Agreement Guidelines

Sentence Structure	Subject-Verb Agreement (Actor, ACTION)
Subject and verb separated by several words: Make sure subject and verb agree.	The handbook of rules and regulations CONTAINS [not contain] important safety information
Subjects joined by "and:" Use plural verb.	The Secretary and Deputy Secretary AGREE [not agrees] on this proposal.
Subjects joined by "or:" Determined by the subject nearest the verb.	The chairman or the committee members DECIDE the issue. The committee members or the chairman DECIDES the issue.
Singular indefinite pronouns used as subjects.	None of the options IS viable. Either option IS viable. Each mission REQUIRES significant resources.

4. CAPITALIZATION, PUNCTUATION, AND USAGE. This section provides basic instructions for standardizing English usage in DoD correspondence; it is not exhaustive. Detailed guidance is provided in Reference (k).

    a. Capitalization

        (1) General Rules

            (a) A common noun or adjective forming an essential part of a proper name is capitalized; the common noun used alone as a substitute for the name of a place or thing is not capitalized. For example:

                1. Massachusetts Avenue; the avenue.

                2. Committee Chair John Smith; the committee chair.

                3. Defense Acquisition Guidebook; the guidebook.

(b) Capitalize titles of documents, publications, papers, acts, laws, etc. Capitalize all principal words in titles (title case); do not capitalize definite or indefinite articles (e.g., "a," "an," "the"), prepositions (e.g., "by," "for," "in," "to"), or conjunctions (e.g., "and," "but," "if"), except as the first word of the title. For example:

1. For a report title: "Secretary of Defense Annual Report to Congress on the Activities of the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation for 2007."

2. For a newspaper: The article appeared in "The Washington Post."

(2) Capitalization Rules Specific to DoD Writing

(a) Use title case for the subject line of a memorandum according to subparagraph 2.1. of this Enclosure 7.

(b) Use UPPERCASE for the actual titles of military operations (e.g., "Operation ENDURING FREEDOM," "Operation IRAQI FREEDOM") and for the names of the Combatant Commands when abbreviated (e.g., "USCENTCOM," "USPACOM").

(c) Capitalize the terms "Nation," "Union," "Administration," "Confederation," "Commonwealth," and "Members" only if used as part of proper names, except that "Nation" is capitalized when referring to the United States. Also capitalize "Federal" and "Government" when referring to the United States. Capitalize "Military Service(s)" when referring to the U.S. Military. (See Table 11.)

Table 11. Examples of DoD-Specific Capitalization

DoD-specific capitalization is underlined for emphasis in these examples:
Any nation seeks to protect its interests. The Colonel is a national hero. He brings great credit upon the Nation. (Referring to the United States.) The Federal Government employs thousands of people. (Referring to the U.S. Government.) The Agency for International Development is a Federal agency. (Referring to a U.S. Federal agency.) The agency works for Government reform. (Referring to the U.S. Government.) The agency works for reform of the Haitian government. The Chiefs of the Military Services testified before Congress. The Chief of Staff of the Army thanked the Service member for her service.

b. Acronyms and Abbreviations

(1) Use acronyms only when the term occurs more than once in the text.

(2) Write out terms as they first appear in the text and place the abbreviation or acronym in parentheses immediately after the term. For example, "The Director of Administration and Management (DA&M) will provide policy guidance."

(3) Use U.S. Postal Service abbreviations for addresses only; spell out State names in the body of the correspondence.

(4) Spell out "United States" when used as a noun. When used as an adjective, or when preceding the word "Government" or the name of a Government organization, use "U.S." (no spaces). Always spell out the term "United States" when it appears in a sentence containing the name of another country. For example:

(a) They are studying the foreign policy of the United States.

(b) The students are interested in U.S. foreign policy.

(c) The United States-Japan relationship is strong.

(5) For military rank abbreviations by Service and pay grade, see Enclosure 3 of Volume 2.

c. Punctuation

(1) Apostrophe. The apostrophe is used to show possession or to form a contraction.

(a) Do not use contractions in formal DoD correspondence; instead spell out each word. (Use "do not" instead of "don't.")

(b) Use apostrophes to show possession:

1. For singular or plural nouns not ending in "s," add " 's." For example:

a. This is Timothy's book.

b. I am the child's teacher.

c. I am the children's teacher.

2. For singular or plural nouns ending in "s" or with an "s" sound, add an apostrophe only. For example:

a. I have read Charles' report.

b. The teachers' proposal includes three separate provisions.

c. We must reconcile the committee members' schedules.

3. If more than one noun possesses an object, add " 's" to the noun nearest the object. For example, "I approve of George and Ted's system" (i.e., the system belonging to George and Ted).

(2) Comma

(a) The comma is the most common form of punctuation and is used to separate elements of a sentence, enhance readability, and improve clarity by signaling to the reader a logical break in the flow of text. However, excessive use of commas can clutter the text. Use commas consistently and exercise judgment in observing these guidelines:

(b) Use a comma to set off parenthetic words, phrases, or clauses, or introductory or apposite material. For example:

1. It is obvious, therefore, that this office cannot function.

2. In other words, the meeting was cancelled.

3. Mrs. Jones, the committee representative, conducted the meeting.

(c) Use a comma to separate items in a series of three or more. For example:

1. The supply team provided a telephone, a computer, and a scanner.

2. Mr. Winston, Mrs. Jones, and I attended the meeting.

(d) Use a comma in numbers containing four or more digits, except in serial numbers and dates. For example:

1. The case is OSD 12345-10.

2. The estimated cost for implementation is $2,300,000.

3. The general recommended redeploying 22,000 troops.

(3) Semicolon

(a) The semicolon, similar to but stronger than the comma, indicates a break in the flow of a sentence and is primarily used to separate independent or coordinate clauses in the same sentence.

(b) Use a semicolon to emphasize the close association, either in similarity or contrast, of two clauses where separate sentences would be too strong. For example:

1. The car would not move; it was broken.

2. The meeting began well; however, several attendees arrived late.

(c) Use a semicolon to separate items in a series of three or more when the items are lengthy or contain internal punctuation. For example: "The meeting was attended by the Director, Administration and Management; Director, Washington Headquarters Services; and the Chief, Correspondence Management Division."

(d) Avoid extensive use of the semicolon; it diminishes readability.

(4) Colon

(a) Use a colon to join two clauses where the essence of the second clause derives so directly from the first clause by explanation or illustration that separate sentences would weaken the meaning. For example:

1. The directions were clear: proceed to step two.

2. An opening appeared: the team advanced.

(b) Also use a colon to introduce any matter that forms a complete sentence, question, quotation, or list. For example:

1. The doctor gave this assessment: "The patient is doing well."

2. We need the following items: a telephone, a computer, and a scanner.

(5) Quotation Marks

(a) Use quotation marks to enclose direct quotations, descriptive designations, and titles of articles and publications. For example:

1. The document was marked "SECRET."

2. I received a copy of the report, "Defense Strategy for the 21st Century."

3. You asked: "Why are the numbers so low?"

(b) Enclose needed punctuation within quotation marks unless the meaning would otherwise be impaired. For example:

1. Punctuation within quotes: He asked: "Is this the correct copy?"

2. Punctuation within quotes: You said: "This is the correct copy."

3. Punctuation outside of quotes: Can we be sure this is the "correct copy"?

(6) Punctuation Spacing. For colons and periods, place two spaces between the punctuation and the text that immediately follows it. For commas and semicolons, place one space between the punctuation and the text that immediately follows it.

d. Numbers

(1) Use numerals for single numbers of 10 or more. For example:

(a) The team consisted of about 40 men.

(b) The incident occurred on two separate occasions.

(2) When 2 or more numbers appear in a sentence and 1 of them is 10 or larger, use numerals for each number (e.g., "About 40 men competed in 3 separate events.").

(3) Spell out numbers if they begin a sentence (e.g., "Seventy-five percent of respondents viewed the case favorably.").

(4) Use numerals to express units of measurement, time, or money. For example:

(a) We will meet at 4 o'clock.

(b) The convoy marched 3 kilometers.

(c) Lunch will be provided for 5 dollars.

e. Dates

(1) The preferred date format is month, day, year (e.g., "Your February 23, 2009 memorandum clearly illustrates the policy.").

(2) The more traditional month, day, year format is also acceptable (usually in more formal communication such as letters, award citations, etc.), but should always be followed by a comma unless it closes the sentence (e.g., "Your February 23, 2009, memorandum clearly illustrates the policy.").

(3) Avoid using contracted dates (e.g., use "February 5," not "the 5th of February").

f. Commonly Confused Words. Table 12 provides examples of words writers commonly confuse and their meanings.

ENCLOSURE 7

MEMORANDUMS

1. WHEN TO USE A MEMORANDUM

    a. Use memorandums for correspondence within the Department of Defense, with the President and the White House staff, and to send routine material to other Federal agencies.

    b. Memorandum types are determined by their purpose.

        (1) Standard Memorandum. Used for routine correspondence within the Department of Defense and to other Federal agencies.

        (2) Action Memorandum. Used for:

            (a) Forwarding material that requires SecDef or DepSecDef approval or signature.

            (b) Describing a problem and recommending a solution.

        (3) Info Memorandum. Used to convey information to the Secretary and Deputy Secretary of Defense on important developments not requiring action at the time (e.g., for background and issue papers). (See Enclosure 5 of Volume 2 for information on talking and point papers.)

        (4) Multi-Addressed Memorandum. Used for material sent to several addressees.

2. PREPARING STANDARD MEMORANDUMS. See Figures 1 and 2 in the Appendix to this enclosure for sample standard memorandums.

    a. Stationery. Use 8.5 by 11-inch letterhead. Use bond paper for succeeding pages. When preparing for the signature of the:

        (1) Secretary of Defense: use SecDef letterhead.

        (2) Deputy Secretary of Defense: use DepSecDef letterhead.

        (3) ExecSec or Special Assistant(s) to the Secretary or Deputy Secretary of Defense: use OSD letterhead.

        (4) OSD and DoD Component Heads: use the appropriate Component letterhead.

    b. Margins. Use a 2-inch top margin and 1-inch side and bottom margins on the first page. The top margin may be adjusted up to 1.75 inches and, if not printed on letterhead (memorandums with multiple co-signers, memorandums of agreement, etc.), up to 1 inch. For succeeding pages, use 1-inch margins on all sides. If memorandums contain less than 11 lines, side margins may be increased to 2 inches. Do not justify right margins.

   c. Font. Use Times New Roman, 12-point.

   d. Spacing. Single space within a paragraph for all memorandums of two or more paragraphs. Always double space between paragraphs and bullets, and between lines in memorandums of a single paragraph of eight lines or less.

   e. Indentation. Indent paragraphs .5 inch from the left margin; indent subparagraphs an additional .5 inch.

   f. Paragraphing. Use bullets, numbers, or lower-case letters for subparagraphs. Do not begin a paragraph near the end of a page unless there is room for at least two lines on that page. Do not carry a paragraph over to the next page unless there are at least two lines on that page. Do not use one-sentence paragraphs.

   g. Page Numbering. Do not number the first page. For second and succeeding pages, place the page number(s):

      (1) Either 1 inch from the top of the page at the right margin, with the text continuing a triple space below the page number line.

   h. Date. Insert the date a double space below the last line in the letterhead or department shield, ending at the right margin. Use month, day, year, showing day and year in numerals. Omit the date on memorandums for SecDef, DepSecDef, or ExecSec signature.

   i. Address Line

      (1) For single addressees:

         (a) Insert "MEMORANDUM FOR" a double space below the date line. Include the addressee's title and the name or office symbol of the organization, providing enough information to ensure the memorandum will be delivered appropriately.

         (b) If more than one line is required for an addressee, indent the second line an additional two spaces so that the first character of the indented line is below the third character of the addressee title on the line immediately above.

(2) For multiple addressees:

(a) Type each on a single line aligned block style below and to the right of "MEMORANDUM FOR:". (See section 5.b. of this enclosure for directions on how to order multiple addressees.)

(b) If there are more than 15 addressees:

1. Enter "MEMORANDUM FOR: SEE DISTRIBUTION" a double space below the date line.

2. Enter "DISTRIBUTION:" a double space below the last line of the signature block or attachment notation, aligned with the left margin.

a. List the addressees single-spaced below the caption, beginning at the left margin. Use title case.

b. For DoD-internal distribution list recipients, place recipients in the order they would appear in a DoD standard multiple-addressee memorandum listing.

c. When the distribution copy recipient name or title extends to succeeding lines, indent the second line two spaces so that the first character of the indented line begins beneath the third character of the line above. Align third and subsequent lines for a given recipient below the first character of the second line; do not indent third and subsequent lines further.

d. Place the entire distribution list on a separate page if there is not room for all addressees on the first page.

j. Attention Line. When directing memorandums to the attention of a particular person within an organization, type "ATTN:" followed by the name or title of the person in parentheses. Place it a single space below and aligned under the third character of the office address. (See Table 13.)

Table 13. Sample Attention Lines in Memorandums

MEMORANDUM FOR SECRETARY OF THE ARMY
(ATTN: LTC BROWN)
UNDER SECRETARY OF DEFENSE FOR POLICY
(ATTN: MR. SMITH) – OR –
MEMORANDUM FOR DIRECTOR, ADMINISTRATION AND MANAGEMENT
(ATTN: MR. PUBLIC)

k. Through Line. AVOID addressing memorandums to the Secretary or Deputy Secretary of Defense through another office or person whenever possible.

(1) When necessary, type "THROUGH:" a double space below the address line and a double space above the subject line. Type the "THROUGH:" office in all caps.

(2) The submitting DoD Component must accomplish the through line coordination prior to submitting the memorandum to CMD for control UNLESS the through office is a SecDef or DepSecDef immediate office, such as SecDef Protocol.

l. Subject Line. Type "SUBJECT:" a double space below the last line of the address line. Two spaces after the colon, briefly describe the memorandum's content, capitalizing the first word and all principal words. If more than one line is required, begin succeeding lines aligned below the first word in the subject line.

m. References. Avoid using references in memorandums for SecDef, DepSecDef, or ExecSec signature. When references are necessary, format them as shown in Table 14.

(1) Type "Reference:" or "Reference(s):" at the left margin, a double space below the subject line, followed by the originating office, subject, and date of the document.

(2) List references in block style two spaces after the colon in the order they appear in the text, identified as (a), (b), (c), etc. Do not letter a reference when there is only one.

(3) When attaching a reference, state so in parentheses after the reference title.

(4) When preparing classified memorandums, indicate the CLASSIFICATION OF THE TITLE in parentheses immediately BEFORE the title. Indicate the CLASSIFICATION OF THE REFERENCE at the END of the reference.

n. Salutation. Do not use a salutation in a memorandum.

o. Body

(1) Begin the body two lines below the subject line. Speak directly to the reader. Use the active voice and clear conversational language. Keep the tone polite and professional, even if the message is bad news.

(2) Convey the message in complete, but succinct paragraphs; try to restrict them to 10 or 15 lines. Organize the information by presenting the most important first, unless background is necessary for the reader to understand the main point. Supporting detail should follow.

q. Signature Block

(1) Leave out the signature block on memorandums for SecDef or DepSecDef signature.

(2) For other memorandums, type the name of the signer, leaving four blank lines below the last line of text, beginning at the center of the page. (3) The signer's name and title may be stamped below the written signature.

(4) For memorandums requiring dual signature and multiple signatures:

(a) When the SecDef or DepSecDef and the head of another agency sign, place the signature blocks side by side, leaving four blank lines below the last line of text. (See Table 15.)

u. Security Classification Markings. In accordance with References (e) through (h):

(1) For content that requires safeguarding, mark in conspicuously larger or bold font:

(a) The highest level of classification contained on that page or the highest level of classification of the material (use whichever is higher) at the top and bottom of each page.

(b) The top and bottom of the first page of the document with the highest overall classification of the contents of the total document. Mark an unclassified transmittal document with an appropriate instruction indicating that it is unclassified when separated from classified attachments. Place the notation in boldface font at the bottom of the page above the overall security classification.

(2) Apply paragraph and subject line markings, classification authority, and declassification instructions to classified material in accordance with References (e) through (h).

(a) The SecDef and DepSecDef shall rarely be listed as classifying authorities. The classification shall normally be derived from another source. A source document or an original classification authority in the originating office shall normally be listed as the classifying authority.

(b) Place the basic classification and declassification statements shown in Table 19 in the lower left corner of the front page of any classified document.

         (b) The second tab ("TAB B"), or the next sequential tab following the signature tabs, for incoming correspondence if applicable.

         (c) The third tab ("TAB C"), or the next sequential tab following the signature and incoming correspondence tabs, for background material. If more than one tab is needed, tab sequentially. If forwarding substantive or lengthy background information, provide a one-page executive summary of the information.

         (d) The fourth tab ("TAB D"), or last tab in package, to list the coordinating officials on one page.

            1. Include the position and name of each coordinating official, as well as the coordination date and type as shown in Table 20.

            2. Include concurrences from the Heads of the OSD and DoD Components or, in their absence, their Principal Deputies. Actual signatures are not required. 2. PREPARING OFFICIAL LETTERS

a. Stationery. See Figure 7 in the Appendix to this enclosure for a sample official letter. Prepare official letters on 8.5 by 11-inch letterhead. Use bond paper for second and succeeding pages. When preparing for the signature of the:

The top margin may be adjusted up to 1.75 inches and, if not printed on letterhead (e.g., letters with multiple co-signers), up to 1 inch. For succeeding pages, use 1-inch margins on all sides. If the letter contains less than 11 lines, side margins may be increased to 2 inches. Do not justify right margins.

c. Font. Use Times New Roman, 12-point.

d. Spacing. Single space within a paragraph for all correspondence of two or more paragraphs. Always double space between paragraphs and bullets, and between lines in correspondence of a single paragraph of eight lines or less.

e. Indentation. Indent paragraphs .5 inch from the left margin; indent subparagraphs an additional .5 inch.

f. Paragraphing. Use bullets, numbers, or lower-case letters for subparagraphs. Do not begin a paragraph near the end of a page unless there is room for at least two lines on that page. Do not carry a paragraph over to the next page unless there are at least two lines on that page. Do not use one-sentence paragraphs.

(3) Envelope Address. Type the mailing address aligned left and centered on the envelope. A rubber stamp may be used for the return address; do NOT handprint or use a rubber stamp for the recipient's address on envelopes for outgoing official mail. Use the standard two-letter State abbreviation with the ZIP +4 Code.

j. Attention Line. When an attention line is appropriate, type "Attention:" on the line above the street or box number as shown in Table 21).

k. Salutation

(1) Use formal salutations on correspondence for SecDef or DepSecDef signature unless precedent or known personal relationships make a more familiar greeting more appropriate. (See Enclosure 3 of Volume 2 for appropriate salutations for public and private officials and military Service members. See Reference (i) for SecDef-preferred salutations for Members of Congress.)

(2) Follow formal salutations with a colon and informal or familiar ones with a comma.

r. Security Classification Markings. In accordance with References (e) through (h):

(1) For content that requires safeguarding, mark in conspicuously larger or bold font:

(a) The highest level of classification contained on that page or the highest level of classification of the material (use whichever is higher) at the top and bottom of each page.

(b) The top and bottom of the first page of the document with the highest overall classification of the contents of the total document. Mark an unclassified transmittal document with an appropriate instruction indicating that it is unclassified when separated from classified enclosures. Place the notation in boldface font at the bottom of the page above the overall security classification.

(2) Apply paragraph and subject line markings, classification authority, and declassification instructions to classified material in accordance with References (e) through (h).

(a) The Secretary and Deputy Secretary of Defense shall rarely be listed as classifying authorities. The classification shall normally be derived from another source. A source document or an original classification authority in the originating office shall normally be listed as the classifying authority.

(b) Place the basic classification and declassification statements shown in Table 19 in the lower left corner of the front page of any classified document.

3. PACKAGING A LETTER FOR DELIVERY. Prepare a package to forward letters for SecDef or DepSecDef signature using an Action Memorandum as the cover or forwarding document as instructed in section 3 of Enclosure 7. See Enclosure 4 for details on preparing and packaging White House Correspondence and Enclosure 5 for Congressional Correspondence.

4. SUBMITTING A LETTER FOR SIGNATURE. Submit letter packages to CMD for control and forwarding through the ExecSec to either the Secretary or Deputy Secretary of Defense.

5. PREPARING PERSONAL LETTERS. Use the personal letter for SecDef and DepSecDef communications that require a personal touch (thanks, congratulations, condolences, acknowledgments, etc.). A personal letter is not used for official and policy-related matters. To prepare a personal letter, use the guidelines for preparing an official letter in section 2 of this enclosure, with these exceptions:

a. Stationery and Envelopes

(1) SecDef and DepSecDef personal letter stationery and envelopes are tightly controlled. Submit letters for SecDef, DepSecDef, or ExecSec signature using an Action Memorandum prepared in accordance with section 3 of Enclosure 7. Include the letter for signature, in final form, on 8.5 by 11-inch letterhead appropriate to the requested signing official. The SecDef and DepSecDef immediate offices will prepare the letter on SecDef or DepSecDef personal letter stationery as deemed appropriate.

(2) The ExecSec processes SecDef personal letters in final form, to include an editorial review, printing on SecDef personal letter stationery, and preparation of the envelope. The DepSecDef Office processes DepSecDef personal letters in final form.

b. Subject and Attention Lines. Do not use on personal letters.

c. Date. Omit the date. CMD will stamp the date on the second line below the letterhead, ending at the right margin, on the day the letter is signed and dispatched.

d. Forms of Address. The proper address form, salutation, and complimentary close are determined by social and official custom. (See Enclosure 3 of Volume 2 for a list of proper forms of address for sending letters to the White House; Congress; Executive departments; foreign diplomatic missions to the United States; international organizations; foreign chiefs of state, heads of government, and cabinet officers; State and local governments; Military Services; and private citizens.)

  (1) Do not abbreviate the title preceding full names in an address, except "Mr.," "Mrs.," or "Dr." Spell out titles such as "His Excellency," "The Honorable," or "The Right Honorable" in an address for balance and appearance.

  (2) Enter address lines flush with the left margin, EXCEPT when addressing a personal letter to a foreign chief of state, head of government, or cabinet minister as shown in Table 25. In that case:

   (a) Enter "His or Her Excellency" (unless otherwise entitled to "His or Her Highness," "The Right Honorable," or other title specified in Enclosure 3 of Volume 2) as the first line of the address, flush with the left margin.

   (b) Indent the official's name on the second line, three spaces from the left margin. Indent the title on the third line, five spaces from the left margin.

   (c) Enter the official mailing address (post office box or street address) beginning on the fourth line, flush with the left margin. Indent second and succeeding lines three spaces from the left margin.

   (d) Consult the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Policy CMO for any questions regarding the titles, forms of address, or mailing addresses of foreign officials.

e. Envelope Address

(1) Because personal letters will be delivered through a postal system, obtaining the proper address is a must. If the letter is returned with an incorrect or incomplete address, valuable time will be lost in getting the correspondence to its intended destination.

(2) Always use the complete address on envelopes. Type the mailing address block style, single spaced in Microsoft Word, for proper placement on the envelope. Do not use punctuation except with common abbreviations. Indent second and succeeding lines three spaces. Do NOT handprint or use a rubber stamp for the recipient's address on envelopes for outgoing personal letters. If a name, title, or address does not fit on the envelope, the font size may be reduced to 11 point. The return address is pre-printed on the back of the envelopes.

(a) State Names. Use the standard two-letter postal abbreviations. (See Table 2 of Volume 2 for two-letter U.S. State and Canadian Province abbreviations.)

(b) ZIP Code. Use ZIP+4 Codes when available. Place ZIP+4 Codes two spaces after the two-letter State identifier. (See Table 1 of Volume 2 for a list of ZIP+4 Codes for OSD addresses.)

(c) Listing of Directional Abbreviations, Frequently Used Street Designations, and Secondary Address Unit Indicators. (See Tables 3, 4, and 5 of Volume 2.)

(d) Official Designations for Countries and Capitals. Use the long-form country and capital names in personal letters for SecDef and DepSecDef signature. Refer to the State Department list of "Independent States in the World" for the official short-form and long-form country and capital names, maintained on the State Department Web Site at http://www.state.gov/s/inr/rls/4250.htm.

(e) Hand Delivered Personal Letters to Foreign SecDef and DepSecDef Counterparts. For SecDef and DepSecDef personal letters going to a counterpart or other dignitary in a foreign country that will be hand-delivered by the U.S. Defense Attaché, prepare an additional SecDef or DepSecDef envelope addressed to the U.S. Defense Attaché for that country. If there is no resident Defense Attaché, address the envelope to the diplomatically accredited attaché.

f. Signature Block. A typed signature block is not used on personal letters for SecDef and DepSecDef signature.

g. Courtesy Copies. A cc: line is not appropriate on a personal letter.

h. Special Handling Instructions. When submitting proposed personal letters for SecDef or DepSecDef signature, provide any special handling or mailing instructions to expedite outprocessing by CMD, such as: "Mail letter unfolded as the recipient will frame the letter."
