

DLA recruiters attended the Ohio University's (OU) Fall Career Fair in Athens, Ohio on September 25th, 2012. OU is Ohio's first University and has over 200,000 Alumni in its 200 year history. Ohio University currently has a total enrollment of over 36,000 students covering several campuses and environments. According to 2009 Forbes Ranking, OU offers the 4th best Research facilities in the country and currently offers the "World's Best M.B.A." Ohio University has produced many excellent leaders and prominent Americans over the years, including television personality Matt Lauer, former Ohio Governor George Voinovich, and Keith Wandell, president and CEO of Harley-Davidson, Inc. Students from many different majors were in attendance. The students visiting the DLA booth at the Fall Career Fair had backgrounds in finance/accounting, international business, communication, and engineering.
