

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

All families need to maintain open lines of communication, especially in this busy world! Try using messages, poems, jokes, quotes, etc. to maintain close relationships. Make the family message center a unique niche in your home where everyone will see it. Have each member contribute to finding unusual writing instruments and assorted decorative items. Remember to change themes on a weekly/monthly basis and decide who will contribute what. The point is to work together and to keep in touch!

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

All families need to maintain open lines of communication, especially in this busy world! Try using messages, poems, jokes, quotes, etc. to maintain close relationships. Make the family message center a unique niche in your home where everyone will see it. Have each member contribute to finding unusual writing instruments and assorted decorative items. Remember to change themes on a weekly/monthly basis and decide who will contribute what. The point is to work together and to keep in touch!

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

All families need to maintain open lines of communication, especially in this busy world! Try using messages, poems, jokes, quotes, etc. to maintain close relationships. Make the family message center a unique niche in your home where everyone will see it. Have each member contribute to finding unusual writing instruments and assorted decorative items. Remember to change themes on a weekly/monthly basis and decide who will contribute what. The point is to work together and to keep in touch!

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

All families need to maintain open lines of communication, especially in this busy world! Try using messages, poems, jokes, quotes, etc. to maintain close relationships. Make the family message center a unique niche in your home where everyone will see it. Have each member contribute to finding unusual writing instruments and assorted decorative items. Remember to change themes on a weekly/monthly basis and decide who will contribute what. The point is to work together and to keep in touch!