

Parent-Teen Activity Series

Tip of the Month

Some day your teen may live in an apartment and there are many things you can prepare your child for. Discuss with your teen all of the financial responsibilities that go along with apartment living. Teach the importance of lease agreements; what your rights are and what you're responsible for. Talk about utilities, how they are "hooked up" and paid. Be sure to discuss optional aspects such as renter's insurance. Take the time to show your teen your own bills, teaching him or her how to budget and use credit cards wisely.
