The copyright alliance has informed me of this welcome invitation from the Obama administration to share my thoughts on my right as a creator.

I urge you not to budget money for this endeavor. Any copyright infringements can and have been handled in the courts - problem solved.

There are no health or safety issues being threatened in the writing industry.

We have no money to spend on anything that isn't crucial to survival of the American public. We are already in an embarrassing position by being indebted to China. It must stop. Protection for artists could be addressed, if necessary, after we reach a point of financial solvency.
