

From: [REDACTED]
To: FN-OMB-IntellectualProperty
Subject: Comments on the Joint Strategic Plan
Date: Monday, March 15, 2010 3:01:21 PM

Re: Comments on the Joint Strategic Plan

Victoria Espinel
Intellectual Property Enforcement Coordinator
Office of Management and Budget
Executive Office of the President
Filed via email

Dear Ms. Espinel:

The copyright concept, respective laws, and practices have been a compromise between public good and ungrounded speculations from the very inception in 18th century. Nothing good came from copyright ever. Those who have claimed copyright necessity could not substantiate the claim by any data whatsoever.

In my view, the best thing you can provide is water copyright enforcement down as much as possible.

Thank you for your real thinking about the matter.

Sincerely,

--

Anatoly Volynets, President
total-knowledge.com
culturedialogue.org