Mark Gaffigan is the Managing Director for the United States Government Accountability Office's (GAO) Natural Resources and Environment team based in Washington, DC. The GAO is an independent, nonpartisan agency that works for Congress and the American people by evaluating and auditing the programs and expenditures of the US government. The Natural Resources and Environment team is responsible for GAO's assessments of federal efforts to manage our nation's land and water resources, protect the environment, ensure food safety, manage agricultural programs, ensure a reliable and environmentally sound energy supply, meet the nation's science challenges and address US and international nuclear security and cleanup. Mr. Gaffigan began his career with GAO in 1987 and has worked on a variety of reviews of federal programs with an emphasis on budget and program reviews of the US Department of Energy and Nuclear Regulatory Commission. Mr. Gaffigan earned a BA in Economics and a MA in Public Administration from the University of Illinois. He has also passed the Certified Public Accountant exam in the state of Maryland where he resides with his family.
