

The Concordance of the Copyright Law of the United States, as enacted on October 19, 1976, now available from the U.S. Government Printing Office, is a comprehensive alphabetical list of each word used in the statute, along with the words that stand immediately before and after that word.

It will enable users to locate all phrases in the law containing a particular keyword. For example, each phrase in the law that includes the word "sculptural" is listed under that keyword. Common words, such as prepositions, direct and indirect articles, conjunctions, verb forms, and the like have been excluded from the list, because they are not considered to be keywords.

The concordance was prepared under contract and the Copyright Office has not independently verified this compilation in full detail and, therefore, does not assume responsibility for its completeness and accuracy.

The price of the volume of 344 pages in paper binding is $7.00. This price is subject to change.
