

ATTENTION!

A REMINDER . . . TO ALL CLERKS OF THE DISTRICT AND CIRCUIT COURTS OF THE UNITED STATES:

The Copyright Act, title 17, United States Code, obligates you to do the following:

- (1) notify the Register of Copyrights of actions filed under the Copyright Act;
- (2) notify the Register of Copyrights of any final order or judgment issued in the case, within one month after the final order or judgment is issued;
- (3) send the Register of Copyrights a copy of the written opinion of the court, within one month of its issuance.

The above-mentioned information should be sent to:

Register of Copyrights
Attn: General Counsel
Copyright Office
Library of Congress
Washington, D.C. 20559

The appropriate form for use in sending the information to the Register of Copyrights may be obtained from:

Administrative Office of the United States Courts
Washington, D.C. 20544

The Copyright Office needs your cooperation in order to track copyright issues and to maintain the public records of the Copyright Office. As outlined in the Federal Register for June 19, 1980, 45 Fed. Reg. 41548 (1980), the Copyright Office uses such records to provide complete information on copyright registrations to the public; these records are available for public inspection in the Certifications & Documents Section of the Copyright Office.
