

FLICC Orientations to Federal Libraries and Information Centers Series
The United States Senate Library

As part of a series of orientations to libraries and information centers, FLICC is offering an opportunity for federal librarians to become acquainted with the U.S. Senate Library. Established in 1871, the Senate Library provides the Senate with accurate, prompt, nonpartisan information services. Librarians on staff provide research assistance in legislation, news and legal databases, television transcripts, and business information. The orientation will feature an overview of the library's information, technical and Web services and a tour of the facilities.

Date

Wednesday, August 16, 2006

Time

9:30 a.m. — 11:30 a.m.

Place

U.S. Senate Library. The library is located in the Russell Senate Office Bldg, Room B-15, Washington, DC

Metro (Two Options)

Capital South (Orange and Blue Lines). Walk north along 1st Street (note: at East Capitol Street the name changes from 1st Street SE to 1st Street NE) to Constitution Ave. Enter the Russell Senate Office Building from the southwest corner of Constitution and 1st streets.

Union Station (Red Line) walk toward the Capitol; cross Columbus Circle and walk up Delaware Ave (the Christopher Columbus statue is looking directly up Delaware Ave.) to C Street. Enter the Russell Senate Office Building from the northeast corner of Delaware and C streets.

After entering and passing through the metal detector, take the stairway, ahead and to the right, to the basement. Turn right into the red brick hallway; the Senate Library is half way down the corridor on the left SR B-15.
