Biography of Zbigniew Brzezinski

Foreign policy advisor, political scientist, educator, and author. Full name: Zbigniew Kazimierz Brzezinski.

Born in Warsaw, Poland, on March 28, 1928, Zbigniew Brzezinski moved with his family to Canada in 1938 and became a naturalized citizen of the United States in 1958. Dr. Brzezinski served as instructor and assistant professor at Harvard, 1953-1960, and as assistant professor and professor at Columbia University, 1962-1977. While still at Columbia, he served as the first director of the Trilateral Commission from 1973 until 1976, which led to his position as foreign policy advisor to the Jimmy Carter presidential campaign. From 1977 until 1981, Brzezinski served as national security advisor within the Carter administration. He returned to his professorship at Columbia in 1981 and continued there until moving to Johns Hopkins University in 1989. In 1981, Brzezinski also accepted a position as counselor at the Center for Strategic and International Studies, Washington, D.C.

Scope and Content

The Carter Administration series consists of recorded speeches and interviews, accompanying transcripts, and other material related to Brzezinski's tenure as national security advisor in President Jimmy Carter's administration.

The Speeches, Testimony, and Travel series consists of post-1981 recorded speeches and interviews, diaries, accompanying transcripts, and other material concerning Brzezinski's domestic and foreign speaking engagements, and travel.

The Subject File series consists of post-1981 recorded interviews with print and broadcast media sources, episodes from the NPR radio program on which Brzezinski occasionally guested, America Abroad, including the non-broadcast pilot program, and recorded instructions by Brzezinski to his secretary, Trudy Werner. Also included are recorded interviews with authors Tom Hayden and Sally Quinn, which were included with the Zbigniew Brzezinski Papers.

The Supplementary Material series consists of cover letters and published editions of speeches that supplement the sound recordings in the collection.

Arrangement of the Material

The collection materials are arranged in 4 series:

- Series 1: Carter Administration, 1979-1981
- Series 2: Speeches, Testimony, and Travel, 1983-2007
- Series 3: Subject File, 1981-2004, and undated
