

Fiscal Year 2012 FEDLINK's Direct Express Option

Alert Summary

More than 60 online services vendors participate in FEDLINK's Direct Express program. Similar to making a purchase using the GSA schedule, FEDLINK customers can place orders directly with online services vendors via the Direct Express option. Under this streamlined purchasing process, products and service offerings are as comprehensive as always—electronic database publications, document delivery services, associated print publications and specialized access options.

Revolving Fund Establishes Authority for Direct Express

As a federal revolving fund program authorized under the Library of Congress' Fiscal Operations Improvement Act, P.L. 106-481, section 103 (2 U.S.C. section 182c), the Library of Congress FEDLINK program can provide: (1) The procurement of commercial information services, publication in any format, and library support services; (2) Related accounting services; (3) Related education, information, and support services to federal offices and to other organizations entitled to use federal sources of supply. In addition to interagency transfers for Transfer Pay services, FEDLINK can accept fees from federal agencies that have "passed through" a vendor and have been earned for facilitating federal purchasing, i.e., the vendors pay the FEDLINK administrative fees.

To establish this option, FEDLINK negotiated Indefinite Delivery Indefinite Quantity (IDIQ) contracts and Basic Ordering Agreements (BOAs) on a sole source basis with Database service vendors. The FEDLINK IDIQ contracts and Basic Ordering Agreements establish the vendors as sole source for their product/service offerings. These contract vehicles allow the government to place orders for an indefinite quantity of commercially available supplies or services during a fixed period.

Place the Order Directly With the Vendor

With Direct Express, the member agency's contracting official may simply cite the FEDLINK contract number on their agency purchase order and send it directly to the vendor. When citing FEDLINK procurement vehicles, members are responsible for executing all contract actions in accordance with applicable regulations. For Federal Procurement Data System (FPDS) reporting, the LC/FEDLINK Agency ID is 0300; the IDIQ contract and BOA numbers are provided below.

For IDIQ contracts, no FBO synopsis or further competition is required on purchases over $25,000. When comparing two vendors with similar database offerings, customers may want to compare prices or choose a vendor based upon their interface.

For Basic Ordering Agreements, a synopsis on FedBizOpps (www.fbo.gov) is required before placing orders over $25,000 in accordance with FAR 16.703 and FAR 5.203(d). The Direct Express BOAs are identified with a "G" in the contract number. An FBO synopsis is posted under the Special Notice category and may be worded as follows:

Fiscal Year 2012 FEDLINK's Direct Express Option

"The (Requesting Agency) intends to issue a delivery order against existing LC/FEDLINK Basic Ordering Agreement #LC09G7XXX with (Vendor's Name) for (description of product/service) Services will be continued through September 30, 2012. NO SOLICITATION DOCUMENT EXISTS. No telephone calls will be accepted. Written responses should include prices and technical data sufficient to determine capability. No award will be based on any offer or proposal received in response to this notice. For further information on the Library of Congress' FEDLINK program, please visit www.loc.gov/flicc."

The vendor receives the purchase order, sets up the customer's account and promptly issues passwords and/or authorization numbers. The vendor will then invoice the FEDLINK customer directly against their agency's purchase order. The customer's agency finance office pays the invoice (and any interest penalties) and reports disbursements to the customer. FEDLINK does not issue statements of account for Direct Express purchases.

The vendor pays the FEDLINK administrative fee of 0.75% of total quarterly Direct Express sales. The fee is included in the contract award price(s) and reflected in the total amount charged to ordering activities. Direct Express customers are responsible for initiating the purchase, managing delivery of the products and services, and paying invoices.

FEDLINK Vendors Participate in Direct Express

The following vendors have contracts with FEDLINK to accept Direct Express orders. (See the chart below.) These same vendors are also available under Transfer Pay mode but are no longer available through the FEDLINK Direct Pay option.

Transfer Pay Option Offers Customers More Account Options

As cost effective as Direct Express is, most current members will continue to prefer transfer pay mode, which offers them more flexibility in managing their funds and provides more assistance with procurement processes.

Under the Transfer Pay option, customers transfer both FEDLINK administrative fees and estimated annual service dollars to Library of Congress (LC)/FEDLINK via a signed Interagency Agreement (IAA). On behalf of the customer, LC/Contracts issues a delivery order to the vendor in the amount specified on the IAA. After receiving the delivery order, the vendor provides service to the customer and submits the customer's invoices to FEDLINK. FEDLINK reviews the invoices, rejects improper ones, and pays acceptable ones from the customer's account. FEDLINK sends the customer copies of rejected invoices, paid invoices, and a monthly statement of account.

If there are surplus funds in one vendor account, an amendment form can conveniently move these funds to another needed service.

Another major benefit of Transfer Pay is extended order deadlines. Instead of having to fulfill a member's order either by providing services or by issuing delivery orders to vendors prior to the end of the fiscal year, before their funds expire, FEDLINK is able to accept signed IAAs with firm orders late in September every year. In addition, FEDLINK is also authorized to accept IAAs and amendments by fax, pending receipt of originals via courier service or mail. This reduces the lead time necessary to add funds to purchase information products and services at the end of the fiscal year.
