

FEDERAL PROGRAMS AVAILABLE FOR USE IN COORDINATED TRANSPORTATION ARRANGEMENTS

In its 2003 report, the Government Accountability Office (GAO) identified 62 federal programs as having the greatest extent or potential for being used in partnership with Federal Transit Administration programs for serving “transportation disadvantaged” populations. In 2011, GAO revisited this question, and identified 80 such programs in that year’s report and testimony to Congress. On the following pages is a table summarizing salient information about these programs as of FY 2010, plus a dozen others, including the following elements:

- Agency and program name, and web site for additional program information
- Outlays of federal funds in FY 2010, as reported by the Office of Management and Budget, and the amount of federal funds spent specifically on transportation in FY 2009, if known, as reported by GAO.
- Indications as to primary target populations (key: “D” = individuals with disabilities, “E” = elderly persons, “L” = low-income persons or households, “V” = veterans, “Y” = children or youth)
- Indication as to whether the program has a planning mechanism at either a state or metropolitan level
- Indication as to whether the program’s funds can be used for mobility management activities as defined at 49 USC 5302(3)(K)
- Indication as to whether the program’s funds can be used to support call centers or one-call services
- Indication as to whether the program’s funds can be used to purchase transit fares, vouchers, or similar media
- Indication as to whether the program’s funds can be used to help purchase vans, buses or other vehicles

In reviewing and updating this table, these points emerge:

- The GAO 2003 methodology may not be perfect (for instance, it excludes a few agencies and programs, such as Indian Health Service, Indian Reservation Roads and other FHWA programs, that have documented histories of coordinated transit-human services partnerships), but has become a widely referenced basis of discussion.
- Most of the programs identified in 2003 by GAO are still in place (four have dropped, the United We Ride initiative identified two programs that have been added, and the 2011 GAO study identified 18 additional programs which have been added to this inventory).
- Aside from FTA programs, all others are restricted in the populations to be served, such as: persons at poverty or in low-income households (9 programs), youth and children (9 programs), clientele of specific public health programs (7 programs), persons with disabilities (6 programs), veterans (4 programs), elderly individuals (3 programs), Native Americans (3 programs), and adult job-seekers (3 programs).

- Most of these programs are administered by states, with varying degrees of decision-making at local level. Some programs have planning structures that could, in theory, mesh with DOT statewide transportation planning (18 programs, not including DOT programs), and only 3 non-DOT programs have planning structures that could theoretically mesh with DOT metropolitan planning processes and DOT coordinated human services transportation plans.
- Mobility management activities are at least theoretically allowable under 40 of these programs.
- The establishment and provision of “one-call” coordinated service delivery is allowable under 34 of these programs.
- Transit passes, vouchers, or other forms of fare payment are allowed uses of 35 of these programs’ federal funds.
- Vehicles or other transit-related capital assets can be purchased with 18 of these programs’ federal funds.

First established under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, and then continued under the Affordable Care Act, Communities Putting Prevention to Work (CPPW) is a locally driven initiative supporting 50 communities to tackle obesity and tobacco use. Through CPPW, these communities are implementing environmental changes to make healthy living easier, such as improving means for safe active transportation for pedestrians, bicyclists and transit users; ensuring provision of healthy food and beverage options in schools; limiting exposure to secondhand smoke; and increasing available tobacco cessation resources.
Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services
Medicaid http://www.cms.gov/home/medicaid.asp Medicaid is a state-federal partnership that ensures medical assistance to qualified low-income persons and persons with disabilities. States are mandated to provide certain categories of health care, and some choose to expand these benefits as appropriate for their beneficiary population. There is a federal mandate for states to arrange the provision of transportation when necessary for accessing health care, but each state may set their own guidelines, payment mechanisms, and participation guidelines for these transportation services. Over the past dozen years, federal legislation has expanded the scope of mandated Medicaid coverage: the 1999 Ticket to Work and Work Incentives Improvement Act required a Medicaid safety net of continued health coverage and related services for qualified persons with disabilities who are entering the workforce. The 2010 Affordable Care Act requires states to extend Medicaid eligibility to all persons at or below 133 percent of the federal poverty line.	$286.2b  Transport: $704.0m	L	States	State	Y	Y	Y	N

Veterans Medical Care Benefits http://www.va.gov/health/MedicalCenters.asp Veterans are eligible for a wide range of hospital-based and outpatient medical services. The Dept of Veterans Affairs (VA) will reimburse eligible veterans for some transportation to covered medical care. In addition, many VA Medical Centers work with volunteer networks to provide transportation for veterans seeking health care, and there occasionally are opportunities for transportation providers to contract directly with VA Medical Centers to provide some services. A growing number of VA Medical Centers have transportation mobility managers, and those VA Medical Centers participating in VA's Veterans Transportation Service provide transportation services above and beyond volunteer networks and individual reimbursements. VA also has specific funding opportunities for organizations serving homeless veterans.	$36.1b  Transport: $314.8m	V	Individuals	N	N	N	Y	N

The purpose is to promote the development and provision of supportive housing and/or supportive services with the goal of helping veterans achieve residential stability, increase their occupational skills and income, and obtain greater self-determination.	$122m  Transport: $283K	V	Local entities	N	N	N	N	Y
