

ESRL/DO EEO Advisory Representative: Holly Rosales

Holly Rosales

Administrative Management Specialist, Earth Systems Research Laboratory (ESRL), Office of the Director, Boulder Colorado.

In 2010 I was given the opportunity to join NOAA through the Student Career Experience Program (SCEP) while I worked my way toward a BS degree in Business Management at the University of Phoenix Denver Colorado campus. I received my degree in 2012 and earned a permanent federal position. My job duties cover a wide range of work areas. Prior to entering federal service I worked in the travel and organizational development industries. I believe when organizations encourage and cultivate a diverse workforce it increases performance, productivity, and overall job satisfaction. In addition, a diverse workforce is the key to making an organization innovative and successful because it brings together a variation of talents and perspectives.
