

Welcome to MAG-14

Hello, my name is Kim Johnston and I am the Family Readiness Officer (FRO) for MAG-14. I wanted to take a moment to introduce myself and ensure that you have the contact information that you will need while you are a part of MAG-14. I also would like to let you know what my job is, as the Family Readiness Officer and what that means to you. Some of my duties include being a link between you and the Command; I can also offer you information and referral for services that are offered aboard the base or in the local community, as well as online; I will be keeping you informed on trainings and briefs that are offered aboard the base; and I will be in charge of volunteer management within the unit. This command prides itself on mission readiness and one of the cornerstones of being prepared is ensuring that our families are prepared as well.

I encourage you to be a part of the group and there are a number of ways in which you could do that. They include attending briefs, becoming a volunteer, being present at family functions, and by providing feedback on any events that you attend or would like to attend. I am always open to suggestions and new ideas, and I encourage you to get involved.

In addition to the support you will get from the command, the Family Readiness Officer, and the volunteers in your unit, there are also many programs aboard the Air Station that can assist you with a variety of topics. Marine Corps Family Team Building, Marine and Family Programs, and Semper Fit are a few of the departments that offer classes and trainings that may be of interest. You can go online to view their schedule by logging on to www.mccscherrypoint.com.

Please feel free to call or email me with any questions you may have for example settling in a new area, deployment related issues, classes that are offered, or any other concerns that may arise. Once again, welcome to the MAG-14 family!
